

Israel Rejects Egypt Plan for Suez

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli Premier Golda Meir has rejected Egypt's offer to reopen the Suez Canal in exchange for an Israeli withdrawal from the banks of the waterway. She also reiterated her government's determination to retain the Golan Heights, Sharm el Sheikh, the Gaza Strip and the Arab sector of Jerusalem.

Addressing a national conference of her ruling Labor party Sunday night, Mrs. Meir avoided stating specific terms for reopening the waterway but repeated her offer Feb. 9 to hold talks with the Egyptians on arrangements to reopen the canal.

Sources close to the Israeli Cabinet said Jerusalem might once again put forward Defense Minister Moshe Dayan's proposal for both Israeli and Egyptian forces to pull back from the canal in conjunction with its reopening.

Sadat's proposal called for only the Israelis to withdraw, with Egyptian troops replacing them on the east bank of the canal.

Saying that April "is the month which shall decide between a solution and war," Sadat warned Israel to make a prompt reply to his proposal or risk renewed fighting.

Mrs. Meir told her party: "Anyone who proposes Israeli agreement to the opening of the canal as a lever to obtain total Israeli withdrawal from Sinai and from Gaza will certainly not be surprised by Israel's outright rejection of this plan."

She repeated Israel's demands for a formal peace treaty guaranteeing secure borders prior to any troop withdrawal. She noted that her government "is having a serious argument with the United States" over Israel's territorial demands and Washington's insistence that international guarantees can safeguard Israel better than new borders.

She said Israel "should not forget what the U.S. and President Nixon have done for Israel in recent years, especially in the field of arms supply," but she expressed amazement at "those who think geography is nonsense."

To achieve security, she declared, Israel must control the Gaza Strip, the Golan Heights taken from Syria and Sharm el Sheikh, at the tip of the Sinai peninsula overlooking the Tiran strait.

She also said Israel will retain Arab Jerusalem, and she pledged that no Arab army would ever again cross the Jordan river, indicating that Israel will only give up the West Bank territory taken from Jordan if it is demilitarized.

Meanwhile, Arab infiltrators from Lebanon fired bazooka rockets early today at an Israeli settlement south of the Lebanese border, the Israeli military command announced. No casualties or damage were reported in the attack on the Sifsuf settlement four miles south of the frontier.

It was the second attack in two days by guerrillas based in Lebanon on Israeli settlements.

Jordanian army troops fought Palestinian guerrillas for the 10th day Sunday, and King Hussein vowed he would keep up the pressure so his forces could give all their attention to the front with Israel.

Guerrillas ambushed a police patrol in downtown Amman and wounded two policemen with machine-gun fire, the government reported. A spokesman also said one soldier was killed Saturday and two others wounded seriously when guerrillas rocketed two villages in north Jordan from neighboring Syria.

Egypt's Middle East News Agency said the guerrillas' central committee plans to demand pan Arab sanctions against Hussein's regime. But another group of Central Committee members issued a statement in Amman denouncing the continued bloodshed between soldiers and guerrillas and pledging to evacuate the guerrillas with their arms from the capital.

Heavy Red Loss Reported

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops attacked a remote government outpost in the central highlands for the fifth straight day but once again were thrown back with heavy losses, South Vietnamese sources reported.

The sources claimed 287 of the enemy were killed in the assault Sunday on Fire Base 6, in the region 300 miles north of Saigon. Government losses were put at two killed and 20 wounded.

Most of the enemy casualties were inflicted by heavy air strikes and artillery that have pounded the area constantly since fighting broke out there early Wednesday. U.S. B52 bombers have dropped more than 100 tons of explosives around the base, trying to blunt the North Vietnamese assault.

The North Vietnamese overran the base on Wednesday, but government forces recaptured it the next day.

The U.S. Command reported that enemy sappers broke through the perimeter of the old U.S. 4th Infantry Division base at Camp Radcliff, killed two Americans, wounded two and damaged 10 vehicles.

Radcliff, about 250 miles northeast of Saigon, has been a ghost camp since the 4th Division left Vietnam last December, but the 173rd Airborne Brigade maintains a guard around the perimeter to protect the buildings and equipment left behind.

Enemy gunners hit the big Da Nang Air Base early today with less than 15 rockets. It was the second shelling there in a week, but the Command said no casualties or damage were reported.

A spokesman said one American was wounded Sunday when a UH1 Huey helicopter was shot down and destroyed 15 miles southwest of Hue. This brought to 4,398 the total of U.S. choppers reported lost in the war.

QUANG TRI, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces pulling back after their retreat from Laos were leaving thousands of unused artillery shells and other ammunition at bases in the northwest corner of South Vietnam until U.S. military officials complained, informed sources said today.

The sources said that if the ammunition had been abandoned at the numerous allied support bases, the enemy might have collected it and used it. No estimate of the amount of ammunition was available but

U.S. officers in the field said it included "thousands" of 105mm mortars and small arms ammunition.

The ammunition was left at several positions vacated by South Vietnamese Army and Marine units. Some U.S. officers told of artillery shells neatly stacked in the gun pits.

"If you can imagine a gun position all set up to fire and pull out the guns and leave everything else behind—rounds, fuses and the like—that is what it looked like," said one.

At a Marine command post in the Khe Sanh area, another officer said, the Vietnamese opened hundreds of boxes of artillery shells, discarded the shells and used the wooden boxes filled with sand in building bunkers and fighting positions. Then they left it all behind as they pulled out, he said. "We looked the area over and told them it was a disgrace," said one U.S. officer at Khe Sanh.

"The Vietnamese have been so careless with ammunition that we have had to clean it up before we leave."

The End of U.S. Ground Troops in Viet in Sight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's Vietnam pullout plan, even a withdrawal timetable spanning just a few months, will be followed promptly in Washington by official projections of troop counts by 1972.

High administration sources, known to be concerned over a crescendo of criticism of their Vietnam policy, have encouraged speculation the U.S. contingent in South Vietnam—now about 300,000—will be down to low 50,000 by the end of next year.

A knowledgeable informant at the California White House said Saturday the Laos operation makes a major enemy push unlikely for about 18 months—implying Hanoi cannot mount a major new offensive before November 1972.

And the continued U.S. withdrawals will mean American military support of the scale of the Laos campaign will not be possible next year, the White House informant said.

Nixon's last troop reduction announcement, April 20, 1970, covered a year. He ordered a pullback of 150,000 men to a ceiling of 284,000 by May 1, 1971.

The President has indicated he will maintain or speed up the present 12,500-a-month withdrawal rate in the next round. His avowed aim is to pull out all GI's, though he has pledged to keep some U.S. military force—size so far unspecified—in South Vietnam as long as the

North holds American prisoners limiting U.S. involvement in Indochina, said

Two prominent senators Sunday added to the mounting chorus of congressional calls for a deadline for total U.S. withdrawal. Nixon has opposed a public deadline on grounds it would dash any remaining chance for a negotiated peace.

Red China Doubles Laos Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — China has sent another 4,000 to 6,000 troops into Northern Laos in recent months, Pentagon sources report.

The sources estimate Peking's military strength there has risen to between 18,000 and 20,000 men, about double last year's number.

U.S. officials said it appeared the reinforcements were intended mainly to beef up protection for Chinese engineer troops working on a major road project leading from South China's Yunnan Province toward the Mekong River and for defense of the road itself.

Among other things, the Red Chinese were said to have positioned large antiaircraft guns and to have introduced new radar for surveillance and warning.

U.S. military analysts said they doubt the manpower buildup had any connection with Chinese government warnings during the recent U.S.-supported South Vietnamese drive against North Vietnamese supply routes in the Laotian Panhandle.

Rather, the Chinese road construction through northern Laos seems to have long range implications for the security of Thailand and Burma, they said.

Both countries are considered targets for Red Chinese-backed guerrilla insurgency. Thai officials long have been worried that a still-limited insurgency movement in Northeast Thailand, adjoining Laos, might grow to serious proportions with Chinese and North Vietnamese help.

Chinese road building in northern Laos began several years ago under an agreement with Laos.

If Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma has had second thoughts about the Chinese project, there seems little he can do about it.

100 Hear Abortion Panelists in Port Ewen

By LYNN MULVANEY

PORT EWEN — "Abortion in the last six months has become a prime contraceptive," Rabbi Manning Bleich, chaplain of Harlem Valley State Hospital, told an audience of more than 100 Saturday night in the Port Ewen Town Hall.

Speaking of today's progressive society, the rabbi, one of six panelists, said, "I can't see that society should change to the extent that we become takers of life."

"What right do you have to legislate unborn children?" replied Mrs. Lillian Loughlin, Kingston mother of 12.

"I think there should be NO law," commented Rabbi Bleich.

Today's law states that any fetus up to 24 weeks of age may be aborted, with consent of the mother.

Dr. George Verilli, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck, said that of the 215 legal abortions performed in Dutchess County during the past six months, not one was performed to save the life of a mother or to destroy a malformed child. He added that of the 35,000 performed in the state during the same period "very few were done for medical reasons."

The panelists, with one exception, all favored therapeutic abortions. Said Dr. Verilli, "only when it means life or death of the mother."

Mrs. Loughlin disagreed saying she is against all abortions.

"Not even in deference to your other children?," a woman in the audience asked meaning, "would she have an abortion if a pregnancy meant her life?" "No," replied the mother of 12.

Her husband, Eugene Loughlin, social worker, served as moderator.

Saugerties lawyer, G. Thomas Rea, another panelist, said he felt, "it is a question of law with which we are dealing."

Citing the Declaration of Independence in which it is stated that, "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness," Rea asked the audience to compare "today's superb lawyers in Albany to Thomas Jefferson."

Citing today's new abortion law, Rea said it reads, "abortion may be performed with the consent of the mother up to the 24th week of pregnancy."

What the legislature is saying is that man is no more than an animal, he added. "You see what they have done. In one full swoop they have destroyed hundreds of years of good reasoning."

"Pure and simple murder," Rabbi Bleich intoned, adding, "all we have come from something that came from before us."

"We made a big mistake," said the Rev. James Priest, panelist and minister of Progressive Baptist Church, Kingston. "We must obey God instead of man . . . we are guests of God's plan . . . we are appointed that women should bring forth fruit . . . we are changing God's plan."

Another minister-panelist, Rev. Richard Darling of the Methodist Church, Malden-Quarryville, gave three reasons why abortion is wrong. First, he said, God takes place in the miracle of conception and abortion wipes out the miracle.

"Second, abortion says to the young people, 'go ahead with promiscuity. If the pill doesn't work you can always get an abortion.'"

And, the Rev. Mr. Darling asked, "Where does it lead? Will the present abortion law pave the way for murder of the elderly?"

Denke, the moderator, also hit on the euthanasia theme, saying that those who call themselves progressive are faced in the wrong direction. "Every four minutes, life has been legally destroyed."

"We say it is wrong to kill a man for murder but it is right to destroy 150,000 unborn children."

Dr. Verilli went into the technical aspects of abortion, the kinds and the reasons saying that he felt it is purely academic.

State Refunds Running Late

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — If you're waiting for a refund on your state income tax to buy that new color television before the higher sales tax takes effect June 1, be prepared to rush to the store.
State Tax Commissioner Norman F. Gallman says refunds are running very slow this year, and thousands of New Yorkers will get their checks several weeks late. All checks, Gallman says, should be out by June 1, the date — by coincidence — the sales tax increases a penny on the dollar.
Gallman blames the slowdown on the state's own money problems. In addition to having fewer workers to process refunds, Gallman says $295 million in refunds were put over from the old fiscal year to the one which began April 1. That's about $57 million more than was carried over last year.
Gallman says the state had sent out 428,991 refunds totalling $9.5 million when the books were closed on the old fiscal year.
At the same time last year, it had paid 14 million refunds worth $76 million.
"We're quite well behind the rate of 1970," Gallman said, "but just about the same as other years."
"For one thing, because of the economizing, we have about 300 fewer temporary employees working on this. And some of the changes made in the law last year have caused quite a few mistakes (on returns)."
Total refunds are projected to be $325 million, compared with $314 million made last year. The number of individual refunds was expected to rise from 4.5 million last year to 4.6 million.
If the state had equalled last year's rate, it would have had to pay another $57 million during the ending fiscal year.
As it was, it squeaked through with a $23 million deficit, which was met by borrowing from a reserve fund. The "savings" from the slow processing are added to another $195 million in aid to localities which was also carried over to be paid in the new fiscal year.

Katrine Youth's Death Probed

By JON POWERS

SAUGERTIES
The mysterious death of a 16-year-old Lake Katrine youth, who was found unconscious in his car on Partition Street—in Saugerties—Saturday night, is being investigated by Village Police and State Police BCI.

Ronald Perry of Old Kings Highway died at Benedictine Hospital at 10:45 p.m. Saturday without regaining consciousness. Emergency treatment at the hospital before being admitted to the intensive care unit, where he died about an hour later.

Keeley said today that arrests are pending in the incident and he added that several persons have been questioned by investigators regarding their connection to the incident.

Keyser, who performed the autopsy Sunday, said that it may be several days before results of lab tests are received from Albany.

Sergeant William McPeck of the Saugerties Police Department, along with Keeley, BCI Kingston station and County Investigator C. S. Van Wagenen and Trooper B.G. McNab of the are continuing their probe.

Three Fatalities in the Area

By WALTER S. CLARK

POUGHKEEPSIE
Two persons including a 14-year-old boy were fatally injured in weekend accidents in Dutchess County, and a Greene County woman lost her life in a traffic accident on a Delaware County highway.

Chief Detective Charles Borchers of the sheriff's staff identified the boy as Jeffery Wright of Upton Road, Town of La-Grange. Police reported the boy had been operating a three-wheel motorized tri-cart in a field near his home off Route 82 Sunday afternoon, when the vehicle went out of control and flipped end over end.

Borchers said the machine ran over the boy and landed on his head. The youth was taken to St. Francis Hospital where he died at 3:45 p.m.

Dutchess County Medical Examiner Dr. William G. Thompson of Rhinebeck reported the boy died of multiple skull fractures and contusions of the brain. A preliminary finding of accidental death was listed pending a formal inquest.

Poughkeepsie police reported Elza Lyons, 24, of 330 Mansion Street, died today in Vassar Hospital of injuries sustained

Sunday night when his car rammed into a bus at Mansion and Smith Streets. Police said Valkenburgh of Prattsville was fatally injured Saturday when her car was in collision with a tractor-trailer on Route 32 in the Delaware County town of Stamford. Police said the woman's car apparently crossed the highway into the opposite lane. The truck was operated by Theodore Cana, 31, of Oneonta, who escaped with minor injuries.

The bus driver sustained minor injuries. Four passengers in the Lyons car were taken to St. Francis Hospital for treatment of undetermined injuries.

Dramatic Copter Rescue

SPRING VALLEY, N.Y. (AP)

Two Rockland County teenagers remained in critical condition in Ramapo General Hospital here today after a fall of 150 feet and a helicopter rescue from a cliffside high above the Hudson River Saturday.

Eileen Spring, 15, and Nancy Slater, 14, fell from the top of High Tor to a cliff ledge while they were taking pictures, authorities said.

They theorized that the girls, busy with their photography, drew too near the edge of the 600-foot promontory just above highway 9W overlooking the town of Haverstraw.

A town resident, viewing the cliff through binoculars, witnessed the accident and called police.

The girls were taken off the cliff by a helicopter flown by Tony Comisano, 30, president of Decair Helicopters, assisted from the ground by one of his pilots, Jack Foster, 29, of Monsey. Both men are ex-Army chopper pilots.

Foster left the helicopter at the base of the promontory and climbed up, searching for a suitable landing place. A large rock was the only suitable site, and he hand-signalized the helicopter to a landing.

"It was as dramatic a rescue as any I saw in Vietnam," Foster said. "Tony's flying had to be right on the money. Too far out and he'd miss the rock. Too far in and the rotor blades would scrape the cliffside."

Koenig To Ask $99,457

KINGSTON
Mayor Francis R. Koenig will ask the Common Council to approve a $99,457 bond issue for the city's share toward the construction of the proposed Rondout Neighborhood Center in downtown Kingston.

Bids totaling $268,127 were opened at city hall on March 29 and with the architect's fees added in totaled just over $293,000.

Available funds include $193,512 from the federal government approved for the construction of the center in 1967. Also on hand is $71,000 from a $96,000 city bond issue approved that year. The remaining $25,000 went for architect's fees in 1968 when bids came in about $80,000 over estimates and the city chose not to appropriate the additional money.

Koenig is seeking approximately $28,000 in additional monies in the form of the $99,457 bond issue. The old bond issue will be voided and new one drawn up, assuming the aldermen go along with the mayor's plans for the downtown neighborhood center.

The building will include some $5,400 in alternates on the general construction contract, where low bidder was Barton Building Inc. of Newburgh at $193,482.

The aldermen meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Koenig's bond request will be referred to the Laws and Rules Committee and the Finance, Ways and Means Committee for study.

The architect, Augustus Schrowang, is looking for a construction start this month on the building, located on the site of the old Orpheum Theater on Broadway, and has predicted a November completion for the project.

Final Action on Welfare Cutback Tops the Agenda

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Final action on the Republicans' welfare-cutback plan was the major business on the agenda today as the legislature sought to clear its decks for a long Easter-Passover holiday recess.

The welfare bills, part of the revised budget plan adopted last week, already have been approved by the Senate. GOP leaders were confident that the Assembly would follow suit.

The lawmakers were to convene this afternoon and conduct working sessions through Tuesday and possibly into Wednesday morning.

The plan then is to recess the legislature until April 20, giving the members nearly two weeks to recuperate from the grinding budget hassle. They were on the job for 12 days straight before adopting a revised $7.69-billion budget last Friday.

Action also is expected this week, probably on Tuesday, on the proposed U.S. constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18. A resolution that would ratify the amendment had been introduced in the Assembly last week but was put aside during the budget controversy.

Its adoption is presumed, since both houses voted overwhelmingly in January for a $164 million during the 1971-72 state constitutional amendment fiscal year.

One of the measures would set a statewide payment standard of $231 a month—plus rent and fuel—for the typical family of four. But the state would fund only 90 per cent of the payment, thus dropping it to about $208. The major impact would be felt in New York City, where the payment already is $231. GOP sponsors of the plan say welfare families could make up the $23 loss by taking advantage of the federal food stamp plan, through which low-income persons may purchase food of greater value than they pay for the stamps.

In upstate districts, the monthly payment has ranged from $203 to $207, except for Monroe County's $231. So there would be little effect upstate.

The other welfare bill would narrow the scope of the medicaid program so that it would be restricted virtually to welfare recipients. It would reduce the eligibility level to $4,500 annual income for a family of four. The present cutoff is $5,000.

The measure also would eliminate dental and optometrical care from the list of benefits.

Rockefeller is prepared to sign the welfare bills, as part of the agreement under which his original $8.45-billion spending plan was cut back.

His signature is not required on the voting resolution, but he is strongly on record for 18-year-olds voting.

Paltz Campus School Saved

NEW PALTZ

The latest word from Albany is the bill that could force the closing of the New Paltz Campus School is dead. State Senator Jay P. Rolison (R-Dutchess, Ulster) told the Freeman over the weekend that the bill would not be reported out of the Senate Finance Committee.

Rolison made the statement after conferring with State Sen. Wayne Anderson, of the Senate Finance Committee.

The bill, part of the Budget Bill, would have forced school districts with a campus school to pay for the district's children attending the school. It would have cost the New Paltz District about $240,000 per year to keep the New Paltz Campus School open.

Frank Hamilton, business manager of the New Paltz School District, said he was "very pleased." Because of the bill the spectres of overcrowded classrooms, split sessions, and a major tax hike for district residents hung over the district.

Hamilton said he felt this bill will not come up again. It was his opinion that if the State University did decide to phase out its campus school system, it would do so in a more orderly manner than that provided for in the bill.

Hamilton also said he was pleased that Rolison took the time to phone him the good news.

However Dr. Merrill Archard, principal of the Campus School, sounded a note of cautious optimism. He said things "looked good," but it was the understanding of concerned people in the State University College, New Paltz, Department of Education that the bill could come up again. He did concede that if the bill was truly dead it was very good news indeed.

NAACP Maps a Protest

NEW YORK (UPI)—Plans for a coalition of blacks and low-income whites to campaign against cuts made in the state budget were announced Sunday by the New York State branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Officials of the state branch, following a series of meetings, told a news conference they already had contacted several groups, including the Urban League and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, to organize a protest against cuts in welfare, Medicaid and education funds from Governor Rockefeller's spending program.

Sen. Waldaba Stewart, D-Brooklyn, political action chairman for the state NAACP, said his group would be "leading a rebellion that would happen anyway."

"This is not only a budget against black people," Stewart said, "it's against all of the working poor in the State of New York."

The group said it was organizing massive demonstrations in Albany, and called on its branches across the state to lobby locally against the proposed budget cuts.

Stewart said the cuts would put 4,000 state employees out of work, close down some nursing schools and mental health facilities and end the open enrollment program at the City University. He said two-thirds of the state funds earmarked for narcotics addiction treatment programs would be eliminated by the cuts.

Stewart called on the legislature and the governor to trim from other areas, such as highway construction and environmental projects, instead of health, education and welfare.

Stewart charged that the governor cut measures from his tax package which were directed at the rich, while leaving in those affecting working people and the poor. He said Rockefeller abandoned a personal income tax increase on persons earning over $20,000 a year and a tax on corporations, and retained the state sales tax boost.

He called the budget cuts "anti-people," and said "They had to make cuts in order to stop taxing the rich corporations in the state."

State Readying Pink Slips for 10,000 Jobs

(Combined Wire Services)

ALBANY, N. Y. — New York State department heads begin sending out pink slips to employees this week, and the director of state operations thinks as many as 10,000 positions may be eliminated.

Earlier estimates of the number of job losses because of deep cuts in the state budget ranged from 4,000 to 6,000 jobs, but T. Norman Hurd has said it may go higher.

"Nobody knows for sure what the precise figure will be, but 10,000 is within the ball park," Hurd said over the weekend.

He said some jobs could be saved by additional economies in individual departments, but "in most cases services come first."

The most vulnerable workers are those in agencies that the new budget has abolished or consolidated. Some 186 of 207 Civil Defense Commission employes already have been notified that their jobs will end April 21.

The exact number of jobs to be eliminated will be determined this week when department heads get their copies of the budget and see just what they had to spend.

Republican legislators are developing a plan for an unprecedented state tax to provide new money to help localities. Sen. John J. Marchi, R-Stat-island, said Sunday.

Marchi indicated the plan would replace all or part of the $75 million in revenue sharing funds taken away from New York City and other localities by the budget cuts voted last week.

The Republican-dominated legislature reduced the localities' share of state income tax revenue from 21 to 18 per cent. Marchi, a Republican-Conservative, who heads the Senate Committee on New York City Affairs, said he expected the plan to be announced within a couple of days.

When asked in a television interview whether the effort to provide a new source of revenue would mean a new tax, Marchi replied, "I would say so, yes."

Questioned about Governor Rockefeller's reaction, Marchi said, "I don't think the governor would oppose it if we provide money for such a plan." Marchi was interviewed on WNBC-TV.

Fish Stocking Seen as Victim of Cut

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Henry L. Diamond, the state Environmental Conservation Dept. commissioner, says he foresees a "test of leadership" in fulfilling promises now that his department has been hit hard by state budget cuts.

The department will be operating with about $1 million less than last year, but the young commissioner said he "can't let the ball game go down the drain because this happened."

Diamond's remarks came in an interview with the Albany Times-Union.

"I would be less than candid

if I said that we are not now at a very serious crossroads," he admitted.

Diamond named three programs where cutbacks in funds would be least harmful — fish hatcheries, mineral management and water resource planning.

"We can still fish without stocking waters," he explained. "The minerals industry in this state is not a big thing... Also, water resource planning can be long-range."

"One can make the argument in this (fiscal) climate that it's more important to check pollutants," he added.

Asked about the department's performance in enforcement against water polluters, Diamond said there were 442 commissioner's orders outstanding on water pollution, as well as 50 court injunctions and about 300 to 400 voluntary agreements.

Diamond did predict, however, that his small staff might have trouble enforcing statutes controlling air pollution, open dumps and sanitary landfills and the use of pesticides.

Bell Sees Tax, Speed Trend Reversed

WOODSTOCK — "This year the state legislature has reversed the trend to tax and spend and the spiral of ever increasing state taxes has been slowed and, hopefully, reversed," Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (R-Woodstock) said today after voting for the state budget.

The battle of the budget has been going on for 12 straight days and the budget was finally passed on April 1. The budget calls for cuts of 756 million dollars out of Governor Rockefeller's proposed increases of 1.1 billion dollars.

Assemblyman Bell said, "I am not completely happy with this budget but it represents a significant movement in controlling state expenses. Failure to support this Republican budget would have forced the leadership to negotiate with city Democrats and this would have resulted in restoration of welfare and many other cuts and new taxes of almost one billion dollars. Such an alternative was unthinkable."

As the Albany Times Union editorialist stated on April 1,

"If Democrat votes had been needed to pass the budget it would have been the taxpayers from who the pound of flesh will be evicted in the form of restoration of budget cuts."

The Supersafe Car

While people who ride passenger trains bitterly complained about drastic reduction of passenger train service when the government-sponsored Railfax starts operations May 1, attention shifted to the alternate form of mass transportation, the attempt to create a supersafe automobile.

The same U.S. Department of Transportation, which will operate Railfax, is underwriting three attempts to produce a supersafe car—by the Fairchild Hiller Corporation, General Motors and AMF, Inc. Their joint goal is to produce a car that can run into a stone wall at 50 miles per hour and the passengers walk away seriously unharmed, sustain a 30-mile-per-hour crash broadside with little damage, or survive a roll at 70 miles per hour. In each case, while the car would sustain some damage, the passenger would be safely cradled in steel. The gasoline tank, made of rubber of a tire-like material, would prevent puncturing and setting on fire in a crash.

The competition between rail and car transportation is in the public interest. Both forms will be used for mass transportation, though bitter passenger disappointment in the drastic reduction of passenger trains is likely to give the supersafe car the advantage.

The National Association of Railroad Passengers says that, outside the Northeast, passenger service will be cut by 68 per cent, and the number of daily train miles—or the number of miles all trains travel in one day—will be cut by 65 per cent. Only minor adjustments will be made in the Northeast corridor from Boston to New York and Washington. Outside this much traveled run, many areas will be left with drastic reductions or without any rail passenger service at all. The hope of thousands for safe ground rail service has been denied. The real competition remains between the air and the highway.

Parents and Drug Misuse

Two more experts have joined the chorus blaming parents for the escalating use of drugs by youth.

"America is a drug-oriented society and adults have set the standard by their own behavior," write Allen Geller and Maxwell Boas in a new book, "The Drug Beat."

Teen-agers have grown up in a world in which mood-changing substances are a fact of life, say the authors. Sleeping pills, stimulants, tranquilizers and depressants are a national habit.

"Thus reared on a diet of mood-altering drugs along with their Wheaties and sundaes, it was only to be expected that the youngsters would emulate their parents' habits and eventually sniff glue and raid their parents' medicine cabinets to obtain those chemical kicks that their parents seem to be experiencing."

Undoubtedly, parental example is a factor in the drug problem of some kids, just as undoubtedly there is a host of other factors involved. It may also be guessed—and even the experts are doing a lot of guessing on this subject—that some kids who are messing around with mind-blowing substances have parents who have never taken anything stronger than aspirin.

It would be enlightening if someone would do a really scientific study of the relationship between the contents of a family's medicine cabinet and their child's experimentation with chemical kicks to prove once and for all, or to lay to rest once and for all, this easy allegation.

David Lawrence Says Sentiment Against Calley Verdict Nearly Unanimous

WASHINGTON — The reaction of the nation to the murder conviction of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., for the killing of at least 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai, for which he was sentenced to life imprisonment, has been unprecedented in its vigor and intensity.

From all points of the country, a huge amount of mail, telegrams, and telephone calls have come not only to the White House but to members of Congress. It has been revealed that sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of clemency for Calley. Already plans are being made by his sympathizers to organize a march in Washington which, it is predicted, will be participated in by many thousands of people.

Members of Congress of both parties are proposing resolutions declaring that Calley should not carry all the blame for the exigencies of guerrilla war in which civilians are sometimes fired upon because they are suspected of possible participation.

Senator William Brock, Republican of Tennessee, told reporters that the protests he received about the Calley verdict were "stronger than anything I have experienced in my eight years in Congress." He added that the general feeling of his constituents is that Calley has been singled out unnecessarily.

Senator James B. Allen, Democrat of Alabama, urged the President to release Calley immediately and grant him executive clemency. He said:

"The Calley verdict has exploded over the heads of members of all our armed services with devastating effect upon both civilian and troop morale. The wily, cunning and cruel enemy could not have accomplished such damage with the full force and fury of all the troops and weapons at his command."

Representative John Davis, Democrat of Georgia, introduced a resolution calling on the President to pardon Calley. Representative Walter Flowers, Democrat of Alabama, stated he also is urging the President to do so, and declared that sentiment is virtually unanimous against the outcome of the trial.

Representative Jack Edwards, Republican of Alabama, commented:

"What is a soldier to do in the future when he disagrees with an order? Should he ignore it at his peril, or should he carry it out and risk prosecution?"

Representative Fletcher Thompson, Republican of Georgia, introduced a resolution which would declare it to be the "sense of the House" to favor a presidential pardon for Calley. He argued that the military court was not empowered to consider the broad over-all questions raised by the massacre at My Lai. He said that Calley enlisted, was taught to kill, was sent on a search and destroy mission, and had acted under combat conditions and other extreme emotional pressures.

Senator Henry Bellmon, Republican of Oklahoma, introduced a resolution to put the Senate on record opposing any prosecution, such as the Calley trial, of military men who kill civilians when engaging in military combat. The resolution has the sponsorship also of Senator Sam J. Ervin Jr., Democrat of North Carolina. It would provide that if any civilian casualties happened in a military operation by United States forces, the law would not hold an individual responsible if the casualties were "incident to direct ground combat with members of an opposing armed force" and if in pursuit of "lawful orders."

Senator Bellmon said that "no reasonable person condones brutality or savagery in either war or peace." But, he added, when an infantryman is in an area where a booby trap may kill him at any time, where noncombatants may themselves set booby traps, "it is impossible, under many conditions, to identify friends or foes among the native population."

Senator Herman Talmadge, Democrat of Georgia, declared that he has received a large volume of telegrams and letters — in unprecedented volume — and that he plans to send all of these communications to the White House.

The first result of all the protests pouring in was President Nixon's order that Lieutenant Calley be removed from the stockade and permitted to stay in his quarters at Ft. Benning while awaiting the review of his case. This, of course, could be quite lengthy. The White House, incidentally, said it has received more communications regarding Calley than any other incident.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

A good man knows when to stay. A very good man knows when to quit. Frank Sinatra did it last weekend, from the dark side of the footlights. I don't feel happy. From his side, it feels good to step down, undefeated. He and Jim Mahoney, his friend, cooked up a fitter of phrases about needing time to think, to relax, "a long pause . . ."

Men are animals. They are broken into the harness of work and they want to stay until they fall in the traces. Retirement is a bad word. It equates with not being needed. Loafing becomes drudgery. Old men shuffle around asking what time it is. Dinner replaces a sex life. They sit looking at walls, dozing listening to their arteries harden.

Frank Sinatra did not quit because he is old. At age 55, he could barely get off a police department. He didn't do it because he counted his resources and found he has enough to last until age 85. He had that a long time ago. He says he wants to think and read. Wrong again. All the lonely thoughts are depressive. Anti-thinking is what is important. All the good productive thoughts have already been thought, used and discarded. Protracted reading induces dozing; dozing induces sleep; sleep induces insomnia — a lousy carousel.

There was some talk that Frank Sinatra might retire because he had Dupuytren's contracture, a shortening of muscles and nerve endings in the palm of the hand. He never sang with his hand. My daughter Gale rode a bike, flipped the handlebars, and fell on a busted milk bottle. She had Dupuytren's contracture for years. She's happy as a bird, working in a morgue.

No, I suspect that when an artist of the stature of Sinatra steps down, it may be because he reads too many obituary columns. From age 50 onward, all of us pause when a buddy disappears under sod. The little dark crow on every man's shoulder chirps: "Who's next? Who's next?" And the man mumbles: "Maybe me. Maybe me."

Sinatra and I grew up a couple of whistles apart. He was in Hoboken; I was on the hill in Jersey City. Richard Conte live between and kept us apart. We got to know the slums, the railroad yards and the fat woman on the fifth floor of a tenement leaning on a pillow yelling "Supper's ready."

Success doesn't erase the recollection of poverty. It sharpens the memory of a cold hungry night long ago. Sinatra scrambled to put himself on top of the heap and a lot of smiling buddies were happy when he fell off 20 years ago. He went back begging for jobs; only the consummate artist makes it twice. Frank made it bigger the second time. He went all the way.

Now he has lost the excitement of the next motion picture, the next song to be sold. He no longer has to prove himself. Between Hoboken and now, he made a lot of right moves and a lot of wrong ones. For a skinny kid, he was fast with his fists. Fast with the broads. Fast with a load of scotch.

But he never lost the fundamentals of the game: family, friends, loyalty. No matter how far his comet arced away from his first wife, Nancy, he walked back into her house with his jacket over his shoulder, tossed it on a chair, and waited for the kisses he knew he could be given, but never ordered. In a strong sense, Sinatra was more of a family man than a lot of characters I know who live the glib life.

He was in Palm Springs one night and his youngest daughter phoned. "Daddy," she said breathlessly, "I just saw 'The Man With the Golden Arm.' Wow, I didn't know you were such a great actor." He looked at his wristwatch. "What are you doing out of bed at this hour," he said. "Get to bed — now!"

He kept guys on the payroll who betrayed him. And always, as he said: "I have to live with one song at least a week to understand it, to be able to tell the story the way the author wanted it told." Later, he kidded his act when he could no longer climb the top rung in the key of G. He made fun of his inability to make it.

New kids were coming up. They could reach the high ones but they didn't know how to melt 2,000 hearts under one roof. Frank did. In time, some of the bright young singers were working for Sinatra.

Once, in Madrid, I sat chatting with Jimmy Cagney and I said: "You know, you're the only man I now who quit and stayed quiet." "Ah," he said, looking at the rug and shaking his head, "there comes a day. Jim, when a man needs a bicycle pump to work himself up to face the cameras."

It happens only when you've been on top a long time. Sinatra now puts on carpet slippers and picks up a book. But we keep his voice forever.

Jack Anderson Says Consumer-Oriented Companies Are Praised by Committee

WASHINGTON — The Senate Consumer Subcommittee, which so often has scoured companies for cheating their customers, will hold hearings this year to praise such firms as Sears, Motorola, Giant Food, Whirlpool and Quaker Oats.

The reason for this turnabout: the committee has found these companies have actually joined the consumer revolution.

In confidential written instructions to the staff, Chairman Frank Moss, D-Utah, points out: "We have seen irresponsible behavior and worse among several of the largest corporations in this country . . . But in our understandable zeal to strike back at this, we have not given sufficient credit to those companies which have displayed an uncommon sense of responsibility."

He directed the staff to prepare hearings later in the year to "explore the positive achievement of these companies in meeting real consumer needs. To the extent that government action or inaction is a barrier to effective voluntary self-regulation, I want to know about that, too."

"I think this series of hearings will serve to encourage other companies to follow these examples of responsible behavior rather than the piper call of the strident, man-the-barricades lobbyists."

Moss excoiates some prominent companies and trade groups, however, in the same memo that he hails the good guys.

Bad Companies Hit
He labels Ford and General Motors as irresponsible for "widely exaggerating the cost of safety improvements." He castigates the U.S. Chamber of Commerce for "scurrying about peddling amendments to cut gaping holes in the fabric of consumer protection."

He attacks the American Retail Federation for fighting class action bills which would give consumers more power to sue in court when they are bilked or sold shoddy goods.

And he denounces the "obstructionist performance" of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association for "trying to lobby the heart out of the Poison Prevention Packaging Act."

Phony advertising, adds Moss, disillusions youth. Over-the-counter drug advertising, for instance, has "fertilized the social ground in which drug abuse takes root."

But in contrast, the confidential Moss memo praises Sears for constructive lobbying "not for the purpose of weakening legislation but to clarify industry's responsibilities."

Giant Food is lauded for hiring consumer advocate Esther Peterson, knowing full well she "would demand substance and not lip service."

The memo also outlines how Motorola has sent factory representatives around to buyers of its major products and has stood up for "warranty and independent consumer agency proposals."

Moss singles out Bud Gray of Whirlpool, who "is dead serious about transforming the Better Business Bureau . . . from their traditional role as weak-kneed apologist into a consumer watchdog." There is praise, too, for "pioneer advertising men like Fred Baker of Seattle and Victor Elting of the Quaker Oats company (who) have been fighting for . . . a strong program of advertising self-regulation."

"The companies which demonstrate a sense of responsibility," declares Moss, "should be rewarded by the consumer who, if he only knew, would invariably choose products of a company which is a good corporate citizen over the products of the company which would deprive him of basic consumer rights."

Hunt Ways to Curb Delinquency

RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A memorandum now circulating within the Nixon administration says the government has got to find out "why and under what conditions young people lead . . . law-abiding lives."

Then mold a national youth campaign on the answer. And do it quickly.

The writers say bluntly the government's contacts with youth are not what they should be and suggests that one way to begin finding the answers the administration needs on delinquency and crime would be to provide youth groups with an established channel of access to government decision-making.

The authors suggest that most young people keep on the right side of the law because they have ready access to "socially acceptable, responsible and personally gratifying" social roles which give them a degree of "legitimate social protection from the consequences of their occasional illegal behavior."

Thus they avoid being labeled troublemakers by the schools, police and courts. Because they aren't labeled, they are less likely to be trapped in a delinquency pattern and thus alienated from the normal adult world.

The writers say studies must be made to identify those governmental procedures and institutions which turn increasing numbers of youngsters against the Establishment, and an action program designed to change those institutions and those practices.

The memorandum warns that time is short, that increasingly juvenile delinquency and even more types of crime are becoming "politicized."

The trend is to massive collective infractions of the law. Juvenile delinquency is becoming less a problem to be dealt with between a youngster accused of committing a crime and a social worker, a police officer, a teacher, a judge or an employer.

Rather, it is increasingly a mass confrontation between large groups of juveniles and authority.

More and more, therefore, the juvenile justice system is likely to be confronted with individuals and groups whose illegal acts receive widespread ideological support as more forms of serious illegal activity become politicized.

Drug abuse, campus riots and violent street gang activity are justified by reference to racial justice. So are political rebellions.

This poses radically new problems in control and prevention.

If this trend continues it may become a "massive problem" at the "political level."

This memorandum is all very well. But one wonders why a study on delinquency and crime of the magnitude suggested was not conducted in 1930 or 1940 or 1950 or even in 1960. Delinquency and crime are not new problems. We seem always to wait for crises.

Hanoi 'Cowboys' Dig West's Music

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Hanoi is having its own troubles with alienated youth.

In January this year, at the Hanoi Municipal People's Court, eight young "cowboys" were brought to trial and convicted.

The ringleader, Phan Thang Toan, was sentenced to 15 years in prison and a loss of citizenship for five years following his prison term.

Nguyen Van Duc was sentenced to 12 years. Four were sent to prison for terms which ranged from four to eight years. One more lucky than the rest, a certain Le Van Trung, received a sentence of 18 months.

High on the list of their crimes, according to Hanoi, was a weakness for "golden music," an Asian amalgam of South Vietnamese swing and American rock anathema to Hanoi's cultural purists. Specifically:

They formed themselves into a band to play golden music. When they performed for money at wedding and engagement parties, they sought ways to sneak in some golden music in order to popularize it and to feel out the tastes of the youths.

Worse yet, the cowboys actively collected the detestable music, smuggling records into North Vietnam, writing down the words of "psychological warfare" songs from the American and South Vietnamese radios and teaching each other. And, the indictment continues:

They industriously copied the manner in which the songs were sung — heart-rending, provocative and romantic — in order to spread them and seduce youths. They gave each other such flattering names as "Number 1

Singer" or "Number 1 Guitarist."

They encouraged and induced young boys and girls to live a depraved life. Those youths who had been poisoned by this mode of living became lazy, left their jobs, their schools and their families to follow the band. They did not take advice from their families, schools, firms, agencies or their friends. Toan and his gang would inject the poison of discontent into them — which is the philosophy of an American-style "free" life, the reactionary philosophy of "art for art's sake."

Then they slandered our society, saying that there was no freedom and that in our society there was no room for artists to flourish. They seduced our youths with strange, fantastic, remote and abstract dreams of completely reactionary content.

And finally they induced youths dreaming of an American or a Saigon lifestyle to oppose our regime and to avoid the labor task and military obligation.

Legislative Proposals

March 29, 1971
Editor, The Freeman:
The following letter has been forwarded to Assemblyman H. Clark Bell:

As I stated during the meeting of the WHITA taxpayers in Albany last week, I am here with submitting the points I raised and would like consideration by you and by Senator Rolison in fostering, stimulating, aiding or abetting legislation on any or all of them.

I sincerely trust that the current Legislature will pass a law prohibiting unemployment benefits to any striking employee, even after the 49-day limit now in effect. It is my contention anyone who willfully walks off a job, to the detriment not only of his employer but to society, should not be entitled to unemployment benefits at any time.

It is my contention that the liberties being taken by harness racing operators are now becoming very immoral.

It is my knowledge that on Long Island they now have what is known as the "Triple." In this particular race, people place their bets on the basis of being able to name the order of finish of the first three horses. The bare odds on this, as you can well figure out, are extraordinary, by multiplying seven times seven times seven. Worse than that, at Monticello Raceway there is to be what is known as the "Super Perfecta." Or "Double Perfecta" for the 8th Race, wherein a bettor is required to correctly name the exact order of finish of the first four horses. The odds on this, according to my mathematics, are well over two thousand to one against the bettor.

I think we pretty well know that "beating the races" is a very unlikely thing, and as a young man out of college I lost thousands and thousands of dollars without ever having seen a race, so I'm speaking from experience. I went broke and had to start life all over. I do not want to see legalized theft, as it were, from the pockets of the public, such as is being practiced by the New York State Legislature permitting the "Triple" and the "Super Perfecta."

I am very much opposed to the elaborate and unquestionably lavish New York City offices that are being furnished to the Governor of New York State. His place is in Albany and if he wants a private office for conference in New York City that's one thing, he has adequate space where he is now.

I well know because I have been there. The public just cannot go on setting up these branch establishments for any Governor. I repeat, his place is in Albany.

On the subject of "vanity plates," as you know I have just plain GHQ on our station wagon. Some of our employees have the GHQ series. In the past I have had the HT series. Anybody that has plates like this definitely should pay an extra fee and you well know I've advocated this for some time. At the present time the fee is $5, which in my book does not even cover the cost of the special handling involved, let alone the special printing of the plates.

I have found out that in Ulster County, for example, all UC, UL and CU plates from 1 to 100 are reserved and set aside for those who have them from year to year. It is my contention these should be considered vanity plates also. If this is done in every county in the State, it would mean thousands and thousands of dollars of revenue, based on $10 charges for each issuance.

It is a well known fact that doctors do not pay out of their own pockets for their license plates. It is a business expense charge and I feel that all MD plates should carry a "Vanity Plate" charge.

As you know, I asked Senator Rolison to put me on the list of those to be heard at the public hearing in Newburgh with respect to Stewart Air Force Base. Frankly, I favor an airport being established there as I believe it will become a great asset to the growth and expansion of Orange and Ulster Counties, particularly with respect to industry and employment.

I have found out that most dentists will not take adults or children whose fees are paid for by Medicaid. I know of one family of a mother and four children who cannot get dental care. I call upon you and Senator Rolison to start an investigation of how this can be in this day and age. We talk about people being underprivileged and yet we are prepared to stand by and let the teeth of kids we ruined by the personal greed of the members of the dental profession.

I asked you and Senator Rolison to reinstitute the bill whereby if a school budget is voted down twice it becomes mandatory that the budget of the preceding year be adopted. I realize this was passed by both houses of the Legislature last year and our "noble" Governor vetoed it. Let's give it another go.

Present-day tax, I understand, by the State per gas station is $2. I suggest this be revised to be $2 per hose per gas station, for most gas station pumps now have two hoses so that two cars can be attended to from the same pump at the same time.

The tax I propose should be assessed against the gasoline company that provides the gasoline, not against the operator of the gas station, who generally leases his concession from the petroleum corporation.

Finally, I ask that you do all within your ability to support a piece of legislation wherein capital punishment will be put on a referendum and the public can then make the decision. You, of course, know that I, because of my background of my father having been Commissioner of Correction for many years and my having worked in prisons as a youngster, together with my experience in newspaper publishing ownership and radio station ownership, am a strong advocate for capital punishment. However, if capital punishment is voted down by the public on a referendum I will accept the will of the public. I may not be happy but I'll be satisfied there was a fair chance given where in a deliberate cold-blooded pre-conceived killing will bring about death in the electric chair or the gas chamber.

I will appreciate acknowledgment of the receipt of this letter and any comments you wish to make.

Sincerely yours,
HARRY M. THAYER

The Politicians

Editor, The Freeman
After trying unsuccessfully to question certain public officials with the help of some politicians, I have come to these conclusions. I firmly believe that politicians and public officials have the courage of their connections and although they seem to know all the answers, it's those darn questions that keep fouling them up.

They have a straight forward way of dodging all the issues. When they say they will not dignify the question with a reply, that means the one they have is quite unsatisfactory. They can stand up and rock the boat and make you believe they are the only ones who can save you from the storm. They shake your hand before an election and your confidence after.

What we have is a cross between a human being and an IBM machine — Calculating Politicians.

Seeks Little League Support

March 26, 1971

Editor, The Freeman:
The following letter has been forwarded to each alderman of the City of Kingston:

Good weather is closing in on us very fast and the sounds of play ball will soon be heard. The Kingston Recreation Department will probably sponsor the Kingston City Slow Pitch Softball League again this year which is a very fine program that boasts 450-500 ball players.

However, I would like to call to your attention the fact that a large majority of the players are not Kingstonsians yet they are allowed to participate in this program which I understand is financed mostly by the taxpayers of Kingston. For example, one night I attended a game which was played between the Rhinebeck Merchants and Bloomington Inn and I was surprised to learn that of the 30 players on these teams only three resided in Kingston City.

Now, as to the financial set up of the league, I understand that the league has 30 teams and each team pays an entry fee of $25 per team, a total of $750. The recreation department pays the umpires and official score keepers about $7.50 per game, a total of $30 a night or $150 per week. At this rate the entry fee would be consumed after five weeks. Since the season runs about 3½ months or 13 weeks this leaves 8 weeks that the recreation department finances and for 8 weeks at $150 per week this would total $1200. Since 4 games are played a night, 3 at Block Park Complex and 1 at Hasbrouck Park I would also assume that there is a bill for lighting expenses or does Central Hudson donate this?

I am sure that each of you gentlemen are aware that there is also another baseball program in the City of Kingston called the Little League which is made up entirely of children from the City of Kingston as it is a Little League regulation that they cannot go out of their district. There are 3 such leagues in our city, the National, American, and Jay Cee. We also have a Knot Hole League. These leagues serve about 400-500 boys, ages 8 through 12 and have to operate on a very tight budget with no support from the recreation department. Also, because of the small amount of city parks, children from the league areas use the fields as playgrounds during the day and at times after dark to practice vandalism and when this happens as does quite often the league has to scrape up the money themselves to pay for repairs.

Do you not agree that our City Little Leagues should be given the same amount of money that the Softball League receives especially since it comes from the taxpayers and supports only their children and not those of outside areas? I ask that each one of you consider the facts and see if something can't be done to ease the financial burden of the Little Leagues. For instance, $300 to each league for umpiring expenses—a total of $1200.

I brought this to the attention of a few Aldermen last year and weapons. We know only too well, the ambushes, and havoc lives, and this was justified.

LT. Calley was dealing with small time in comparison to the atomic bombing, and yet he is to pay a price for doing his duty. Again, we must understand, there is no morality in war. We must find a way of ending this slaughter, but it doesn't look promising. If China gets the means to deliver, and every day is a day gain for this deliver, it will make Tora Tora Tora look like a peace treaty. We must keep prepared, and we must look for solutions. Time is running out.

The conditions were such that, many times the enemy could be standing next to a group of servicemen unknown. Someone gave the order to eliminate any suspicious people, whether it be Lt. Calley, or who gave the order. When you are having men killed by an unseen enemy within your own quarters, some kind of action must be taken. Lt. Calley was protecting his men, as well as himself. If there is any guilt, don't let Lt. Calley take the blame for us, because every American citizen must share this guilt.

When the atomic bomb was dropped on Japan, we knew

We stopped General Patton in Europe, and we stopped General McArthur in Korea. There is no substitute for victory, and we have been paying the price with our servicemen's lives ever since. You do not go into a game, unless you play to win, if you do not play to win, then don't bother to play the game at all. We did not belong in Korea, or Vietnam, because we did not go there with the intention to win, we did not go all out in either conflict. There is no morality in war, or police actions, because innocent people get slaughtered regardless of all precautions.

It is a known fact, that in Korea, and Vietnam, the enemy would use older men, women, and children, as a front for their troops dressed in civilian clothes to penetrate into South Korea, and South Vietnam. Many of these older men, wom-

FREEMAN ADS BRING RESULTS

Introducing the 1971 Gulf Incentive Plan.

At Gulf, we're in the business of selling gasoline. And so are several dozen other companies.

Naturally, we'd like you to buy our gasoline instead of theirs. So we're offering you an incentive: Better service.

And, since we'll be depending on our dealers to give you that service, we're offering them an incentive:

A chance to win one of 210 brand new Ford LTD convertibles.

Good service for you.

Your incentive is based on research. We've found that one of the most important things you want from a service station is service.

In fact, we've found that our dealers' gasoline sales are almost directly proportional to the quality of service they give you.

Things like a prompt greeting. (Being there with a smile in 10 seconds or less.)

Cleaning the windshield. (After courtesy, it's the number one thing a driver looks for.)

Checking under the hood. (Battery, oil, etc.)

Things like clean rest rooms and full map racks. Extra services for travelers. Opening earlier. Closing later. Working weekends and holidays.

A convertible for him.

The dealer's incentive is based on common sense.

Anything worth having is worth working for. And to a man who spends most of his time working on other people's cars, a new convertible is definitely worth having.

So this year, as usual, we sat down with our dealers to figure out how much gasoline they could reasonably expect to sell during the coming months.

We agreed on a goal. Then we told them about the convertibles.

We're giving away six in each of 35 sales districts, based on sales during the April-September period.

Any dealer can win.

In each district, two cars will go to small dealers, two to medium-size dealers and two to large dealers.

In each group, the first car will be given outright to the eligible dealer who shows the greatest gasoline sales increase over his goal. The second will be awarded in a drawing among the remaining eligible dealers who have met their goal. (And each half-percent increase over their goal brings them another chance in the drawing.)

In addition, the dealers who don't win a car, but still do a good job, can share in an estimated two million dollars' worth of merchandise awards throughout the year.

You can't lose.

The whole idea behind this plan is to encourage our dealers to give you better service than you can get anywhere else.

We realize we're asking them to work a lot harder at a job that's already hard enough. But we're offering a lot in return.

Because the better care they take of your car, the more you'll come back. And the more you come back, the better their chances of winning their convertibles.

Good service for you.

A convertible for him.

Defense Rests In Arnold Case

KINGSTON—Testimony in the murder trial of Rodney Arnold of Kerhonkson ended today, with defense attorney Francis Martocci resting his case at 11:30 a.m. Defense testimony opened this morning in County Court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino.

Court was recessed at 11:40. The final summations by both counsels will be made this afternoon.

Arnold, 30, a former state correctional institution guard at Napanoch, is accused of the fatal shooting of 31-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth Blaustein on a highway near Accord on the morning of June 1, 1970. The defendant has been confined in the county jail since bail was revoked on the first day of testimony.

District Attorney Francis J. Vogt rested the prosecution's case early last Thursday afternoon and court recessed until today.

Lions Slate Ceramic Show

KINGSTON Pottery store in Saugerties will be the only representative from Ulster County.
The organization was incorporated in 1969, and was originally formed by a group of ceramic distributors for the purpose of promoting ceramics
as both a hobby and a business.
All of its current members
first took up ceramics as a hobby. Since they first became involved in the field, they have not only attended classes at local studios, but have furthered their ceramic knowledge by attending seminars with teachers. Many such seminars are conducted at member studios.

Many of the items that will be on display at the Lions Club Exposition have been awarded blue ribbons at ceramics competitions throughout the United States. Displays will range from the useful to decorative and from early
Americana to contemporary.
During show hours, each booth will conduct continuous demonstrations of various decorating techniques.
Alfred Jansen of South Cairo
Schenectady. The Pettycoat is president of the group.

Pattern Sets Meet With Legislators

KINGSTON Included in this is a 135-unit project in Kingston's Broadway and Mid-Hudson Pattern for Progress will meet Thursday afternoon to discuss and explore the county's future growth and the role it will play in the Mid-
Hudson Regional Development Program.

The Mid-Hudson program is a seven-county effort being undertaken by Pattern for Progress and the State Urban Development Corporation.

According to C. David Loeks,
Pattern for Progress president,
"our principal aim is to bring everyone up-to-date on the Mid-Hudson program, and to seek ways for it to help meet the immediate needs of county and local governments, and various private groups, particularly in the area of housing."

The special session, co-sponsored by Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Ulster County
Legislature and Herbert Hekler,
Ulster County planning director,
is one of a series that Pattern for Progress has scheduled for this year in each of the counties covered by the program. In addition to Ulster, the Mid-Hudson program also involves
Dutchess, Sullivan, Putnam,
Orange, Greene and Columbia
Counties.

The program, explained
Loeks, consists of two basic elements: a regional plan to better structure anticipated growth; plus a means for implementing the plan through the efforts of UDC and other state agencies.

Over the past year, said
Loeks, this partnership between UDC and Pattern for Progress has resulted in agreements in five Mid-Hudson communities to construct a total of 635 UDC
sponsored housing units worth more than $18 million.

KELLY, GALLO, ARONICA, MURPHY, FIORE AND HURLEY (L-R) REVIEW PLANS

BOCES Students Constructing New Building

KINGSTON materials and cost estimates were submitted by the building trades students. A small cinder block building, now under construction at Loughran Park, is unique in one special respect: it was designed and is being built almost entirely by students.

Students in building trade classes at the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services are the engineers for the project which, when completed, will provide locker room and shower facilities for Kingston High School athletes and a "warming building" for wintertime ice skaters.

The idea was first presented and negotiated by John Fiore, Sr., placement coordinator at BOCES; Andrew J. Murphy III, Superintendent of Recreation for Kingston and William Hurley, athletic director for the Kingston City Schools consolidated. Plans and specifications were drawn up by the drafting program at BOCES and, when finally completed, a list of materials and cost estimates was submitted by the building trades students.

There were two phases of construction, however, that BOCES students could not handle: excavation and plumbing. The excavation was done by the Kingston Board of Public Works while Charles Kelly, plumbing inspector, the Kingston Examining Board of Plumbers and local plumbers handled the second phase.

Also participating in the program are T. Robert Gallo, Kingston's Alderman-at-large and Michael Aronica, BOCES director.

The projects give the students the opportunity to apply acquired skills on a real job under actual working conditions. Upon completion, the building will be used by the Recreation Department for ice skating facilities in the winter and storage and shelter in the summer. Kingston High School and the Babe Ruth League will also use the building.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

In many cases Preparation H gives prompt, temporary relief from such pain and itching and actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation. Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients showed this to be true in many cases. In fact, many doctors, themselves, use Preparation H or recommend it for their families. Preparation H ointment or suppositories.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM B. LAWSON AND DAUGHTER, ERIKA

Catskill Mountain 3,500 Club: Girl, 6, Is Youngest Member

By JOHN POWERS

Any season of the year, the Catskill Mountains are a haven for hikers and outdoor enthusiasts. There is one group, however, whose members probably appreciate the rolling, but majestic, Catskill peaks and trails more than any other: the Catskill 3,500 Club.

There are 34 peaks in the Catskills who altitude exceeds 3,500 feet, and to qualify for membership in the club, a hiker must climb to the top of each one.

At present there are 92 members of the Catskill 3,500 Club, but less than 15 are from Ulster County. As testimony to the fame and popularity of the Catskills, club members come from states throughout the nation (including Alaska), as well as large contingents from Dutchess, Greene, Columbia and Delaware Counties.

The club was conceived nine years ago by Daniel Smiley, who owns the facilities at Mohonk Mountain near New Paltz. It's first president, in 1962, was William Spangenberg of Woodstock.

Special

Rev. Roy Donahue of Downsville has been president for the past two years, and he describes the climbing as "non-technical mountaineering."

which means that a minimum of equipment is used and the only requirements are stamina and strong legs.

Age is no drawback. The oldest member is in his 70s and, what is even more remarkable, the youngest member is a 6-year-old girl.

Erika Lawson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawson of Albany, has climbed all 34 peaks by herself (no help from mom and dad is allowed). She enjoys climbing, Erika told The Freeman recently, although "some of the mountains are a little too steep."

There's a footnote to membership requirements for the club. Four of the peaks, Balsam, Slide, Panther and Black Head, must be scaled during the snow months — February.

Erika met the requirements with ease. In fact, rugged Black Head Mountain posed little problems for the first-grader: after reaching the top, of the way down on her backside. The older members of the club hold Erika in special regard.

At the club's yearly dinner, held recently at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Erika received special recognition for her accomplishments. There were 140 persons at the dinner.

Young Erika can almost be considered a veteran mountain climber. When she was four years old, she padded up Hunter Mountain all by herself.

On the other end of the scale is one of the club's senior members, Edward G. West of Allaben, who has also climbed many of the Adirondack Mountain peaks.

West said there was little danger involved in climbing any of the Catskills, but he admitted, "I'd just as soon pick the easiest route up." But "sometimes I deliberately pick the harder way," said West, "just for the challenge."

What attractions are there in climbing mountains?

"It's the finest kind of exercise," said West, "and I enjoy the scenery."

Mrs. Lawson added, "It's a healthy outdoor activity. I love the undistilled nature and its beauty." Her daughter added, "It's just fun."

Honors For UCCC Program

STONE RIDGE
The Medical Laboratory Technology program at Ulster County Community College, a cooperative venture by the college and the Kingston City Laboratory, has been written up in a national magazine, "Bio Science", published by the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

The article, in the magazine's December issue, was written by Professor Richard Glazer, chairman of the Division of Biological and Health Services at UCCC, who played a leading role in setting up the two-year Medical Laboratory Technology program.

"The program has been highly successful, benefiting the student, patient, and the community," Professor Glazer wrote in the magazine. "It has enhanced the reputation of the college and its acceptance by the community. These are benefits that could not have been achieved in a purely endemic situation."

Glazer noted that the need for trained paramedical personnel has developed into a major health care problem because of the continual increase in population growth and the even greater demands for medical services. "Because of its unique community role, the training of these technicians has become a prime responsibility of the community college," he said.

Professor Glazer wrote that the two-year collegiate curriculum in Medical Laboratory Technology at UCCC was developed in association with the City of Kingston Laboratory to avoid a program that would be developed in an academic vacuum with little consultation and cooperation with local hospitals and health units. The aim of this program is to provide the student with a theoretical foundation coupled with a practical background achieved through laboratory experience in a functioning laboratory.

The City of Kingston Laboratory, directed by Dr. Herbert Derman, combines in a single responsibility the clinical pathology laboratories of two general hospitals, Benedictine and Kingston, with a total of 450 beds. It also handles the outpatient service for the entire county, a blood bank and public health and medicolegal laboratories.

In his article, Professor Glazer reported that some of the laboratory equipment available for testing and student use are the Coulter S cell counter, capable of automatically measuring seven blood parameters; nine Auto Analyzer trains linked so as to perform nine different chemical tests simultaneously on a single serum specimen; gasometers; Coulter F, in line doing platelet counts; and other equipment.

"The important point here is that the students, during their training, use this equipment while it is functioning on line, and not only in a classroom situation which may not be relevant to its function."

The equipment at the laboratory is available for service in patient care and student training. A summer experience program has been instituted in which students are employed by the laboratory in a learning-work program, and in which they are rotated through all areas of the laboratory for two or three-week intervals.

Professor Glazer wrote that equipment has been provided for both the City Laboratory and the college which neither would be able to afford by itself. Eliminated, he added, are the need for duplication of personnel, equipment, books, and journals.

Glazer said the program over the years has been the development of a high degree of respect by the college and laboratory and understanding of each other's problems and needs. He explained that the program has developed "into a close-knit, highly efficient cooperative unit."

Professor Glazer says he feels this type of venture should not be limited to paramedical program, but also can be applied to a large array of programs, such as conservation, marine biology, and other science-laboratory technologies.

Lefooters added 23 new couples to their Western Style Square Dance Club at the graduation ceremonies of their eighth workshop on Monday, Mar. 29 at Hurley Reformed Church Hall.

These 23 couples have successfully completed the required scheduled dance workshop course under the teaching and guidance of club-caller Don Blair and the faithful assistance of "Co-Head Angels" Hal and Adele Theis and Dick and Tina Gittings, along with their crew of "Super Angels and Angels."

Angels are regular club members who attend workshops to dance with the class in order to expedite their learning of square dance calls; Super Angels are angels who have attended all 25 scheduled workshops; and Head Angels are primary overseers of these Angels and the workshop members.

Don and Renee Blair presented the graduates with their personal Lefooter's Club badges and square dance diploma. The badge symbolizes the member's right to participate in all functions of club-level western style square dancing anywhere in the country.

Traditionally, Lefooters consider workshop graduation one of the highlights of the year. Many club members attended to watch and join the fun while welcoming new members.

The graduating couples include Cortlin and Joy Casselman, Bob and Betty Coutant, George and Pat Dawkins, Howard and Vi Finger, Blair and Ellie Foster, Bill and Joanne Freer, Carl and Grayce Grant, Ralph and Inge Gundrum.

Check Pockets Before Washing

DEAR ABBY: My husband never empties his pockets when he changes, and as a result of his negligence, I have ruined two of his watches and destroyed important papers that were in his wallet and ended up in my washer.

He says I should always look thru the pockets before putting anything in the machine. I say, he should have enough common sense to take care of his personal belongings, and if he is so careless and stupid as to leave things in his pockets, it's not my fault. Who is correct?

JUST WONDERING
DEAR JUST: Not you, Lady.

DEAR ABBY: Five months ago, when we got married I was already pregnant, but we were in love and the term "have to" never entered our minds. We are both 20. My parents have never let us live it down. We had a beautiful church wedding, but my parents would not let us send out formal invitations or wedding announcements because they didn't want the date of our wedding advertised knowing a baby would be born before nine months had passed.

I am only two months from delivery now, and my mother has decided that we shouldn't send out any birth announcements either.

Abby, my husband and I are very happy over the birth of our first child and don't see why we can't proudly tell the world about our baby when it comes. All my mother cares about is saving her face. She thinks it will reflect on her and Dad if the world knows their daughter was pregnant when she got married. I would like your opinion.

PROUD AND HAPPY
DEAR PROUD: While I can understand your pride and happiness, I can also understand your mother's reluctance to "advertise" the fact that you were with child when you were married.

However, the baby is yours to advertise as you wish, and the sending of birth announcements is your decision — not your mother's.

DEAR ABBY: I am a freshman at college and this is my first experience at being away from home.

I wonder if parents realize how much their children look forward to mail from home? I am lucky because my parents write to me faithfully. Some parents haven't even written their children once since September! I only wish I could send parents a picture of their child's face when he sees an empty mailbox.

I know most parents are busy, but if they would just sit down and write a letter every few weeks, or even a postcard, it would give the away-from-home college student the lift he needs.

KAREN
DEAR KAREN: Are you putting me on? I hear from parents constantly complaining that their away-from-home kids never write, the parents

Sisterhood to Meet Wednesday Night

Guest speaker will be Douglas Baker, Dean of Students, and Professor of Biology at the State University of New York at New Paltz. The Ulster Garden Club will have an interesting exhibit on gardening and its relationship to ecology. The display will be under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Hansen, club president. The program, which has been arranged by Mrs. William Selden, social action chairman, and Mrs. Harold Bruer, general program chairman of Sisterhood, is open to the public and is to begin at 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. Jonathan Eichhorn, hospitality chairman.

Plans are progressing for Cabaret which will be held on May 15. Mrs. Harold Bruer and Mrs. William Goodheim are co-chairmen of the show. Mrs. Fred Shaymow is coordinator. Music will be provided by Howard Rust and his orchestra. Anyone interested in participating in Cabaret should contact the chairmen. An award of a color television will be made in conjunction with Cabaret. Arrangements for the award are under the direction of Mrs. Robert Ronder, Mrs. Herbert Kleitske and Miss Ruby Markson.

Rookie Allin Gains Victory

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI)—Brian "Bud" Allin knew he was going to win. There were, in his mind, no maybe's about it.

And when he got his chance, he quickly ended the Greater Greensboro Open and sent most of the pros heading south for this week's Masters, which many of them had been tuning up for anyway.

Allin won't be joining them at Augusta, however. He'll be playing instead in the Magnolia Classic at Hattiesburg, Miss., a satellite tournament. Before Sunday he had done little to merit an invitation to the Masters. From the looks of his performance at Greensboro, though, he should be in the thick of the fight for the prized green coat for many years to come.

Displaying sensational putting and ignoring the odds—one no one had ever won this tournament after shooting a four-over par 75 on the first round—he fought into contention and barged into a sudden death playoff with Rod Funseth and Dave Eichelberger when they stumbled on their closing holes.

All three wound up the 72 holes with a nine-under-par 275. Allin had a 69, as did Eichelberger, and Funseth a 71. They headed for the first tee for a playoff and moments later, they trudged back to the clubhouse. Allin put his second shot on the fringe of the green, about 32 feet from the hole, and canned it for a birdie. Funseth and Eichelberger parred and golf had a new hero.

Pete Brown wound up one shot back at 276 when he fired a 69 despite bogeys at 16 and 17. At 277 were Terry Dill and Miller Barber and still another stroke back were Tony Jacklin, Al Geiberger and Bob Charles. "I'm still on Cloud Nine," beamed Allin, a boyish, freckled-faced 26-year-old rookie pro from Santa Barbara, Calif. "I started off telling myself today I was going to win. I wasn't thinking about finishing second or third—I just went out there

Shy Esposito Turns Trick

By United Press International
And on the last day of the season, Phil Esposito learned the meaning of humility.

The ebullient, good-natured center of the Bruins, who set or extended some kind of National Hockey League scoring record in almost every game he played during the last two months of the season, caught up to himself Sunday and didn't quite know how to react.

It happened after he scored his second of three goals as the Bruins routed the Montreal Canadiens, 7-2. The goal was his 75th of the season and the Boston fans observed it with a minute-long standing ovation. For once, Esposito was slow in responding to the cheers.

"For the first time in my life I was sort of shy, just shy," he explained. "I've never been shy before. But these people are terrific in this town."

In another notable personal achievement marking the close of the regular campaign, goaltender Ed Giacomin brought the Vezina Trophy back to New York for the first time in 30 years as he shut out the Detroit Red Wings, 6-0. The Rangers, who wound up second to Boston in the East Division, finished with 177 goals scored against them, seven less than the total allowed by Chicago.

Giacomin and rookie Gilles Villemure, the other New York goalie, thus share the $1,500 prize for winning the Vezina, plus another $500 for allowing the fewest total goals in each half of the season. The shutout was Giacomin's eighth of the season, a league high, and Villemure contributed four for a team total of 12.

In the other windup games, the West Division champion Black Hawks lost to the Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-2, the Los Angeles Kings beat the Vancouver Canucks, 4-2, Philadelphia and Buffalo skated to a 3-3 tie and Pittsburgh and St. Louis deadlocked at 1-1.

The Stanley Cup playoffs begin Wednesday night with Montreal at Boston and Toronto at New York in the East and Philadelphia at Chicago and Minnesota at St. Louis in the West Division.

Milwaukee, Bullets Close Out Opponents

SOARING HIGH — Philadelphia 76er Dennis Awtrey (20) pulls a rebound away from Baltimore Bullets strongman Wes Unseld (41) in the first quarter of yesterday's NBA playoff game. The rebound was one of the few the 76ers were to get as Unseld and Company won the final tilt of the best-of-seven series, 128-120. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

By United Press International

The Milwaukee Bucks and the Baltimore Bullets joined the New York Knickerbockers in the semifinals of the National Basketball Association's championship playoffs Sunday, and Coach Dick Motta of the Chicago Bulls insists his team will be the fourth member of the group.

The Bucks overpowered San Francisco, 136-86, to win their first round playoff series four games to one, and Baltimore defeated Philadelphia, 128-120, to take their series four games to three.

Chicago evened its series with Los Angeles at three games apiece by defeating the Lakers, 113-99. The two teams will meet in Los Angeles Tuesday night to decide the series.

Baltimore will begin semifinal play Tuesday night against

New York, which last week downed Atlanta four games to one to win its opening round series. Milwaukee will play the winner of the Chicago-Los Angeles series.

Motta, whose team has battled back from a 2-0 deficit in the series, said after Sunday's victory that his players were so charged up emotionally that he could not envision them losing the seventh game.

"Our players are so fired up now, if they're denied, I'll be surprised," said Motta. "Our club has a great deal of pride and they want this very badly."

The Bulls had to come from behind again Sunday to force a seventh game. They trailed by 11 points early in the game but turned the contest in their favor in the third period by outscoring the Lakers 21-4 during one stretch.

Chicago placed all five starters in double figures, with Bob Weiss leading the way with 25 points. Jerry Sloan chipped in with 23 points and Bob Love had 21. Gail Goodrich led Los Angeles with 25 points.

Milwaukee had hardly any trouble at all in whipping the Warriors. The Bucks hit on 59 per cent of their shots in the first half and led, 69-35, at the intermission. Jon McGlocklin paced the Bucks with 28 points and Lew Alcindor had 23. Ron Williams led San Francisco with 13 points.

The Bullets broke their game open in the second quarter when they outscored the 76ers, 43-22. Earl Monroe and Fred Carter each scored 10 points in the second quarter for the Bullets, but it was the shooting of Jack Marin that was most responsible for the Baltimore triumph. Marin scored a career high 33 points to pace the Bullets' balanced attack. Archie Clark scored 37 points and Billy Cunningham added 30 to spark the 76ers, but Philadelphia got very little help from its bench.

Scott, Beatty Star

By United Press International

Charlie Scott and Zelmo Beatty are leaving some lasting impressions in their first American Basketball Association playoffs.

Scott, a 6-foot-6 rookie guard, scored 29 points and dazzled the

New York Nets with some fancy dribbling Sunday to spark the Virginia Squires to a 114-108 victory in the second game of their best-of-seven playoff series.

The former North Carolina star was at his best in the clutch as he scored eight points in the last two and one-half minutes to sew up the Squires' second straight victory over the Nets.

Beatty, a 6-foot-9 center who jumped to the ABA this season from the NBA, scored 32 points and grabbed 15 rebounds to pace the Utah Stars to a 113-101 triumph over the Texas Chaparrals. It was Utah's third victory in a row over Texas.

With Beatty controlling the boards and successfully hitting from outside with his jump shot, the Stars jumped to an early lead and held it all the way. Texas battled to within a point with 8:06 left in the game, but the Stars connected on eight consecutive free throws to lock up the contest.

In other playoff action, Louie Dampier scored 28 points to pace the Kentucky Colonels to a 120-110 victory over the Florida Daisies. Kentucky now leads 2-0 in the best-of-seven series.

Dampier sank the Floridians with his long range shooting, connecting on four three-point field goal attempts. Teammate Dan Issel chipped in with 26 points as the duo offset a 35-point effort by the Floridians' Mack Calvin.

Former POW Subs for Nixon

By United Press International

The major league baseball season opens today with a 40-year old veteran of Vietnam filling in for President Nixon in Washington, D.C., and three spare parts subbing for key regulars of the National League champion Reds in Cincinnati.

Master Sgt. Daniel L. Pitzer, a former prisoner in Vietnam, will represent President Nixon in the traditional "presidential opener" between the Oakland Athletics and Washington Senators. Defense secretary Melvin R. Laird and the children of prisoner in Vietnam also will be in the presidential box.

The Reds, hosting the Atlanta Braves in the National League's traditional "advance opener" in Cincinnati, will be without regulars Lee May, Bob Tolan and Dave Concepcion, all of whom are sidelined with injuries. The Reds also have switched Tony Perez from third to first base in an effort to pack their lineup with as much power as possible.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, picked by many to win the National League's Western Division title, opener against the Houston Astros in Houston in a night game that rounds out the first day's schedule.

A sellout crowd of more than 42,000 is expected at Washington when Vida Blue, a 21-year old left-hander with blazing speed, faces Dick Bosman, a 16-game winner for the Senators last season. Blue was brought up late last season and pitched a no-hitter and a one-hitter in September.

The Athletics are rated behind the Minnesota Twins and California Angels as contenders in the AL West. The Senators, who acquired Denny McLain and Curt Flood in winter trades, are considered a "mystery club," in the AL East, which, of course, is ruled by the world champion Baltimore Orioles.

Gary Nolan, 18-7 in 1970, has been selected to pitch the Reds' opener against Phil Niekro, who had a 23-13 record in 1969 and a 12-18 mark in 1970 for the Braves. Perez is subbing for May at first. Hal McRae for Tolan in center, rookie Frank Duffy for Concepcion at short and Woody Woodward for Perez at third.

A crowd of 51,726, largest ever to attend a baseball game in Cincinnati, will see the opener in Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium.

Bill Singer, who compiled an 8-5 record including a no-hitter after recovering from hepatitis last season, will be on the mound for the Dodgers against Larry Dierker, who was 16-12 last season after being a 20-game winner in 1969. The Dodgers are favored to win the NL's Western Division title this year primarily because of the acquisition of slugger Richie Allen from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The schedule swings into high gear on Tuesday with Kansas City at California, Milwaukee at Minnesota, Cleveland at Detroit and New York at Boston in the American League and Montreal at New York, Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, St. Louis at Chicago, San Francisco at San Diego and Los Angeles at Houston in the National League.

The teams completed their spring training schedules Sunday with the Chicago Cubs beating the Chicago White Sox, 5-4, the Baltimore Orioles topping the New York Mets, 5-1, the Boston Red Sox outslugging the New York Yankees, 14-8, the Reds beating the Detroit Tigers, 5-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates shading the Montreal Expos, 2-1, the San Diego Padres downing the Milwaukee Brewers, 3-1, the Dodgers defeating the California Angels, 7-3, Kansas City whipping St. Louis, 13-5, Minnesota topping Houston, 5-4, and Atlanta blanking Washington, 2-0.

Reds Beset by Injuries

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds, the defending champions of the National League, opened its season today already beset by injuries.

Three starters from the 1970 team will miss from a few weeks to several months of the first of the season because of winter and spring wounds.

Bobby Tolan will be on the disabled list until late May or June because of a ruptured achilles tendon suffered during a basketball game.

Dave Concepcion, a shortstop, will miss the first two weeks at least because of a dislocated thumb. And Lee May, the big hard-swinging first baseman, will be out the first two weeks with a strained knee ligament. He was injured as the spring training season was closing.

A sellout crowd of 51,726 was assured for the opening game today at Riverfront Stadium against the Atlanta Braves, who were invited back despite their win that spoiled the Reds' opener last year. Standing room tickets went on sale this morning for the game.

Gov. John J. Gilligan was asked to throw out the first ball, but was unable to attend and in his place a Congressman al Medal of Honor winner from Ohio agreed to open the season. Gordon Roberts of Lebanon, Ohio, will do the honors. Gary Nolan, who had an 18-7 season in 1970, was pitted against Phil Niekro, 12-18, on the mound.

Manager Sparky Anderson had two-time batting champion Pete Rose in rightfield, Bernie Carbo in leftfield, Hal McRae in centerfield, Tony Perez at first, Tommy Helms at second, Woody Woodward at third, Frank Duffy at shortstop, and Johnny Bench catching.

Atlanta planned to have Sonny Jackson in centerfield, Ralph Garr in leftfield, Hank Aaron in rightfield, Orlando Cepeda at first, Hal King at catcher, Felix Millan at second, Cleve Boyer at third, and Marty Perez at shortstop. Few observers have picked the Reds to repeat as league champions, but Anderson is optimistic.

"I'd be a liar if I said our injuries didn't concern me," he admitted, "but we've got a lot going for us, too."

"We're coming off a great year. We worked harder and are in better physical condition than last year. We're versatile, so many players can play in different positions, and there's a lot of pride on this club."

Campo Horses Score Big

By United Press International

For trainer Johnny Campo, Saturday was a day of doubling his pleasure and doubling his fun.

The veteran trainer had two of his charges, Jim French and Good Behaving, capture big races. Jim French became a horse to be reckoned with in the Kentucky Derby on May 1 when the Eastern invader captured the 34th running of the $133,400 Santa Anita Derby while Good Behaving captured the $50,000 Gotham Stakes at Aqueduct.

Jim French, a 3-year-old son of Graustark, won by 1 3/4 lengths over heavily-favored Unconscious to lend stature to his chances at Louisville. The Kentucky Derby has been considered a wide-open affair since Hoist the Flag broke his leg last week.

Jim French has been a model of consistency lately. He finished third to Hoist the Flag in the Bay Shore Stakes at Aqueduct on March 20 and was third again in the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park a week later.

Four horses — Unconscious, Jim French, Steal A Dance and Vegas Vic — battled head and head turning in the stretch. Angel Cordero Jr. and Jim French hugging the rail and inched his charge steadily forward to his final winning margin. Vegas Vic was third. Jim French, the only one in the 10-horse field to have previously raced at 1 1/8 miles, went the distance Saturday in 1:48 1/5 seconds. He rewarded his backers in the crowd of 45,500, which turned out in 95-degree weather, with a payoff of $9.60, $4.20 and $3.20. Unconscious placed at $2.80 and $2.40 while Vegas Vic yielded $3.20.

About three hours prior to Jim French's victory, Campo-trained Good Behaving rallied to win the Gotham, the third in New York's four races serving as preps for the Kentucky

Derby. However, Good Behaving, despite his win last month in Aqueduct's Swift Stakes and his Gotham triumph, won't be running in the Derby as he was not nominated for the Run for the Roses.

Good Behaving ($5.40) came from last place at the half mile pole to score by 1 3/4 lengths over favored Droll Role in the one mile event. Sound Off finished third.

Twist the Axe, another highly regarded 3-year-old, won the $50,000 Arkansas Derby at the Oaklawn Park. Twist the Axe paid $9.20 to win. Barbizon Streak finished second and Bix was third.

Bushido ($25.00), an 11-1 shot who had never before won at a distance longer than seven furlongs, led from wire-to-wire for 1 1/16 miles as he captured the $115,600 John B. Campbell Handicap at Bowie. Never Bow finished second, 1 1/2 lengths back, and True North was third.

Specify, a 28-1 shot, scored a dramatic victory by a neck over Black Secret to earn $37,200 first money in the Grand National Steeplechase at Liverpool, England.

English Spaniel Is Show's Best

CHICAGO (UPI)—Champion Chinese's Adamant James, an English springer spaniel owned by Milton E. Prickett, Lexington, Ky., won his 25th best of show award in competition against 3,041 other dogs Sunday at the 31st International Kennel Club All-Breed Dog Show.

The 2 1/2-year-old spaniel previously won the Westminster Dog Show at Madison Square Garden.

A 3 1/2-year-old German shepherd owned and shown by Dick Guetzloff, Des Plaines, Ill., accumulated 199 1/2 out of 200 possible points to win the obedience category.

A Doberman Pinscher owned by Shelia and George West, Mottontown, N. Y., won the working category. The non-sporting event was won by a standard poodle owned by Joy S. Tongue and Joanna Sering, Portland, Ore.

A bloodhound owned by Judith S. and Dr. Lawrence J. Calif., knocked out Stamford Tacourek, Glenarm, Md., won Harris, 235, Jamaica, 2.

In 1969, a Volkswagen was named one of the world's most beautiful things.

We were stunned.

When a famous American designer, W. Dorwin Teague, picked a Volkswagen as one of the world's most beautifully designed products, we just couldn't believe it.

"I considered thousands of things," said Mr. Teague, "but could find only 15 that met my criteria."

Some of the winners were:

An Ericofon phone. A Kill Collection chaise. A Bohn calculator. A Carlsberg beer bottle. (Burp.)

And lo and behold, a Volkswagen Karmann Ghia. (Blush.)

For years, we've privately thought our sports car to be beautiful.

With its hand-finished body.

And its air-cooled engine. That never boils over. Goes about 26 miles a gallon. And is utterly reliable.

But never in our wildest dreams did we think it was that beautiful.

"The Ghia," said Mr. Teague, "is an outstanding good creation. Inside and out. It's really beautiful."

Bless you, Mr. Teague.

Hall of Fame Speaker Says

Bowling Is Booming But Sees New Image

By CHARLES J. TIANO

KINGSTON — The bowling industry is booming across the country and around the world. The Professional Bowler's Association (PBA) is a smash hit, financially and as a television attraction.

But the men who control the future of the sport are concerned about its image and plan to do something about it. So said William (Bill) Bunetta, a member of the AMF Staff of Champions and ABC Hall of Fame, in a speech before the 5th annual Kingston Bowling Association Hall of Fame induction dinner Saturday night at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

The KBA inducted five living members—four for bowling excellence and one for distinguished contributions to the sport. Cited for bowling success were Chris Gallo, William Kuehn, Howard I. Spaulding and John Schatzel.

William (Bill) Mohr was cited for distinguished service.

"Bowling is a tremendous success anyway you look at it," said Bunetta, "but the PBA notably Japan where in Tokyo realizes that the sport has become too bland on the professional and league level. "We're going to try to restore some of the excitement and color the game had before it got so big," Bunetta added. "The PBA is so concerned about this aspect that it has appointed an image committee. It will be headed by Dick Ritger, one of the tour regulars."

Bunetta said the Ritger committee has been given wide latitude to study the problem and come up with some recommendations for the 1971-72 season.

The PBA and ABC are also concerned about the 42 per cent of bowlers who tried the sport and then abandoned it. "We want some of those people back in the game and we want to get more fun into bowling," he said.

He also noted that the PBA and ABC are enjoying an international boom in France, Germany, England, Australia and Japan where in Tokyo

KINGSTON — They came to see Rich Rinaldi shoot and score and he didn't disappoint anyone. But despite the presence of the heralded St. Peter's star in a Slicker's Delivery uniform, Felicello's Pipers of Marlboro won the annual Kingston Poughkeepsie City League Basketball Tournament here last night.

Paced by lesser known, but for the night, better shooting

Billy Gray and Steve Aurigemma, the Pipers whipped Slicker's 103-97, in the championship game before a fair-sized gathering in Municipal Auditorium.

The win completed a fantastic season for the Marlboro team which included capturing the won the annual Kingston Poughkeepsie City League Basketball Tournament here last night.

taking a wealth of shots, not hitting quite like the night before when he paced Slicker's to a 108-74 win over the Roadrunners in the semi-finals.

His Deliverymen teammates weren't having much better luck. Chando wasn't afraid to chuck and Strong got into foul trouble. Only Berry was a force when he moved towards the hoop, but most of the time he concentrated on containing Williams.

Finally Rinaldi, a native of Poughkeepsie, and Chando began finding the range in the second half and Slicker's started to cut the margin. But Aurigemma also was clicking on outside shots from all angles. His five points down the stretch proved to be the difference.

Rinaldi led all scorers with 28 points. Chando added 22. Aurigemma and Gray had 25 apiece.

The Roadrunners took third place easily disposing of the Oreo's 106-70.

Dennis Motley and Tom Titus spearheaded a quick and surprisingly smooth attack with 33 and 23 points respectively. The Oreo's were never in the contest and, playing with only six men, had to be extra careful on defense to prevent fouls. As a result, the Roadrunners usually had free access to the basket.

Rick Tavres had 17 points or the losers.

REBOUNDS: Rinaldi, Williams and Strong joined Gray and Aurigemma on the All-Star team. . . . Felicello's Beat the Roadrunners in the semi, 99-71, behind Tony Messere's 23 points. Messere sat out most of the final with a bad neck.

St. Mary's Wins Tournament

MAHOPAC — The team captured three major championships along the way — Ulster County CYO Tyro, CYO Archdiocesan Upstate, the Father-Mooney Memorial Tournament and Mahopac.

Eight of the Tyros played and shared honors as they won the Coleman High Elementary Varsity Tournament. The team has won the Ulster CYO Tyro title for the past five years and taken four straight Upstate titles. It also extended its undefeated streak against strictly Ulster County competition to 51 games.

Rich Terpening set a new individual club record with 325 points and for the first time the Tyros had three players with 200 or more points in a season. As Dom Timbrouck collected 256 and Ted Van Dyke 248. The team tallied 1123 points, another new seasonal standard.

Against St. John's, the winners jumped to a 11-4 lead in the first period and led all the way. Timbrouck led with 13 points. Terpening added 10 and Van Dyke had nine. Bob Laquiviana led St. John's with 9.

Lou Brooks assisted Coach Terpening in handling the Tyros. The school earned some added laurels when the St. Mary's cheerleaders won a trophy as the best cheerleading squad in the tournament.

Record Opening For Paltz Track

NEW PALTZ — What figured to be a record shattering season began just that way for New Paltz State's track team here Saturday as the Hawks trounced Westfield State, 95-40, setting four varsity marks, in the process.

New entries into SU's books were made in the 120 high hurdles, 220 dash, 880 run, and 440 relay. The best time for the 100 dash was tied.

Ray Jackman started things off for New Paltz with the victory in the 120 high hurdles. His time was 15.4, besting the old team low of 15.9 and also setting a new track record.

Following a Westfield win in the 440 intermediate hurdles, one of two firsts the visitors streaked to a 100 dash win in 9.9, tying the former NP mark.

Omar Rodriguez, the talented freshman who started in cross country last fall, chopped 1.4 seconds off the 880 standard with a clocking of 2:01.

Cespleo then put his name in the books all by himself with a 22.1 in the 220 dash. The old record was 22.6.

The final Hawk record breaker was authored by the 440 relay team of Sid Way, Barry Bloomfield, Ed Davis, and Cespleo with a time of 44.1.

Finalists Set In Title Tilt

KINGSTON — Two tight games Sunday produced the finalists for the Over-30 Basketball League championship.

Hanstein's edged Boyle's 42-38, and Esposito's nosed out Blue Gardenia, 46-45, in the contests played in Municipal Auditorium. The two teams will meet Thursday for the title.

Fouls hurt Boyle's as Hanstein's was able to outscore the losers 16-8 from the charity stripe. Vern Plantindia led the way with 18 points, eight on free throws.

Jim Ferraro had 12 for Boyle's.

Esposito's rallied from a 25-16 halftime deficit by outscoring Blue Gardenia, 30-20, in the second session.

Mell Williams had put in 11 points to lead the losers, but Art Gribbons' hot hand helped give Esposito's the big win.

Williams finished with 18. Gribbons with 15.

The box scores:
Hanstein's (42) — Massa, 8; Perry, 4; Fitzgerald, 8; Plantindia, 18; Kelly, 4.
Boyle's (38)—Hotaling, 1; Gramaldi, 8; Ferraro, 12; Morris; Feeney, 7; Finnegan, 2; Price, 6; Parker, 2.

Raiders, Allen's Reach Finals

SAUGERTIES — It will be the regular season champion Raiders against Allen's Bus Line in the finals of the Saugerties Athletic Association basketball league playoffs.

Raiders trounced Ferroxcube, 88-62, as Rich Koegel hit 69 per cent from the floor to score 23 points and pick off 13 rebounds.

Henderson finished with 29 points and Frank Allen hit 15 for the winners. John Carnright led the Irish with 20 and John Kelly had 16.

Raiders trounced Ferroxcube, 88-62, as Rich Koegel hit 69 per cent from the floor to score 23 points and pick off 13 rebounds. The Raiders as a team were 50 per cent from the field and held a 49-29 edge in rebounds.

It was a close contest only in the first quarter when Raiders led 19-16, but Ferroxcube was swamped 40-18 in the next two quarters to break the game open.

Ron Thomas hit 20 and Jack Keenan added 13 for Raiders. Rich Herman (22) and Cal Fowx (13) led Ferroxcube.

In the other game, Allen's had to start without key players and found themselves trailing 18-6 after the first quarter. Stan Henderson then ignited a rally with 14 points in the second quarter and Allen's tied the score 30-30 at halftime. Allen's led the rest of the way but frequently by not more than a point or two.

Top Performance For Crutches

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—Illinois distance runner Rick Howse comes close to an unrecognized world record eve-day.

Howse has done the mile in 9:30 in workouts, really not close to the world mark for the distance. But it well could be the world record for a man running on crutches with a cast on his right foot.

Howse injured the foot Feb. 17 jogging to class. Two nights later he finished third in a two mile run, and that night X-rays revealed he had run on a broken foot. The cast was applied, and everybody except Howse figured his senior season was ended.

Instead he secured crutches and now runs the Memorial Stadium mile every day, even recording a 2:00 in the quarter mile.

"I'm confident I'll be running before the end of the outdoor season," he said. "The only doubt in my mind is how long it will take me to return to somewhere near the form I was in during the indoor season."

Howse, who holds Illinois records at two, three and six miles, tries to run as closely as possible in his regular style. "I sort of run with the left foot and let the right foot follow its natural motion without letting it touch the ground," he said. "I push off the crutches to get the extra thrust in each stride. Once you accomplish the proper rhythm, it is not very difficult."

"The upper portion of my body is much stronger than it was before the injury. My shoulders and arms have been working three times harder than normal. I should really benefit my finishing kick."

Coach Bob Wright hoped Howse would be ready for the Big Ten championship May 28-29, and while that's one of Howse's objectives, he said "I definitely want to compete in the NCAA, a few weeks after the conference meet. I'll be running in the three mile and six mile, and the six miles always has been my best event."

KINGSTON — St. George's third place finishers in the regular season, upset highly favored Immanuel, 65-53, for the YMCA Senior Church basketball league championship.

In other words fans, it's rebuilding time.

"We have lost two boys to graduation from last year, first baseman Pat Harder and Pitcher Jack Fitzgerald," Reynolds points out, "and Jack hit over .400 for us."

What's left for the new coach to work with is a group of nine freshmen, four sophomores, three juniors, and two seniors.

These two veterans are hurler Mike Droulette, and receiver Don Hastings, the latter being one of the top catchers in the county.

Juniors Mike Eigo and Bill Weishaupt and soph Johnny Guess are the other lettermen.

Eigo and Weishaupt along with Dan Gallagher, Joel Slicker, and John Carr will compose the Statesmen infield. Gallagher is in charge of filling tall Harder's shoes at first base.

In the outfield the only holdover is Ed Mathieu. John Thomas, Kevin Sapp, and Adam Stauble, all freshmen, will attempt to fill the other holes in the pasture.

Backing up Droulette on the mound will be soph Mark Oakley, and freshmen Mike Berardi and John Thorpe. If the situation calls for it, Thorpe can also play the outfield.

"Last year we were plagued by errors and never could seem to get the hit when we needed it," the Coleman coach explained as he readied his team for the season which officially begins April 14 at home with Red Hook. "I feel that our defense is much stronger and I am hoping we can add some hitting."

Other double figure scorers were Paul Schleede with 10 for Immanuel and George Geanuleas (13) and Glenn Littlefield (15) for St. George.

A. J. Foyt Takes '500'

ATLANTA (AP) — "When you've beaten Richard Petty and the other NASCAR drivers, you've beaten the best," says Texan A. J. Foyt, who is finding the Grand National late model stock car racing circuit financially rewarding.

Foyt, a three-time Indianapolis winner, steered his 1969 Mercury by Petty on the back straight-away 12 laps from the finish Sunday and claimed the $19,200 first prize in the Atlanta 500.

"He'll run wheel-to-wheel with you," Foyt said of Petty. "He got into the corners better than I, but I beat him out of the corners and that's how I got the lead. Things got a little hairy running that fast and I almost lost it twice."

Foyt had controlled the race most of the way, holding the lap lead for 205 of the 328 trips around the 1.5-mile saucer-shaped oval. But Petty closed a 26-second advantage under a caution flag and then zipped into the lead when Foyt stopped for fuel on the 305th lap.

Petty retained his slim lead, but Foyt stayed right on his bumper and made his move 26 miles from the end. Foyt extended his advantage to 1.8 seconds when he took the checkered flag.

The finish gave Foyt memories of his 1967 triumph at Indianapolis when he picked his way through a five-car pileup on the final lap.

Foyt and Petty had to negotiate a two-car spin-out a quarter-mile from the finish line Sunday.

Foyt averaged 131.375 miles per hour despite running under caution flags four times during the race. Petty, in a Plymouth, earned second place money of $10,700.

Pete Hamilton drove his Plymouth to a third place finish, followed by David Pearson in a Ford and Bobby Isaac in a Dodge.

J. Petraglia Wins Number 3

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Johnny Petraglia, the all-conquering pro bowler on the 1971 circuit pocketed a $25,000 check during the weekend that put him on the brink of an all-time Professional Bowlers Association earnings record.

The money, the 25-year-old Brooklyn, N.Y. southpaw's first prize in the $100,000 Firestone Tournament of Champions here Saturday, ran his 1971 winnings to $66,153, just a little more than $1,000 less than the high mark of $67,375 earned by Jim Stefanich in 1968. It was also his third straight win.

Petraglia dominated the four-day event that brought 48 top-notch bowlers together, finally beating Don Johnson 245-169 to take the win.

He, Johnson, Dave Davis, Marty Piraino and Dick Battista were the top five after the Wednesday-through-Friday qualifying play.

In the highly tense final matches, Piraino downed Davis 268-195, but lost to Johnson 214-193. Johnson then knocked off Battista 183-174, but ran into split trouble when up against Petraglia.

Petraglia came up with four strikes in his first five rolls and finished with five strikes in a row.

Johnson won $12,500 for second place, Battista got $6,500, Piraino $3,500 and Davis $2,500.

The Firestone is the richest event on the PBA tour. It will be held here again next year.

Genesee Team Takes Lead

BUFFALO (AP) — The Class A Genesee Team of Rochester leads in the team and doubles categories after the fourth weekend of action in the New York State Women's Bowling Tournament.

The Genesees rolled a 2619 total to wrest the top spot from the Nassau County Five, leaders after the previous weekend at 2538.

In the doubles, the tandem of Millie Martorella and Barb Spain rolled an 1145 aggregate, as did Esther Henry and Terry Bianchi. All are on the Genesee team, and Mrs. Martorella was the 1967 and 1970 Women's International Bowling Congress Queen's Tournament champion.

The Clover Merit team of Buffalo claimed the Class B lead Sunday night with a 2427, while the Rogers of Warsaw took over first place among Class D teams with 2094.

The South Shore team of Clayton moved into the Class C second spot with 2257 and Candy Schall of Watertown found the second spot in the Class B single with 584.

The tourney continues through May 30, with some 10,000 contestants vying for $103,000 in prize money.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: During the daytime you are able to get much of value accomplished that has to do with routines and activities of everyday life. It is an ideal time to communicate your practical ambitions to others. The evening finds most everyone with questionable judgment and apt to act too hastily, so take it easy and doublecheck all ideas.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

ASKED: (Q.) Sometimes Steve acts like a baby. He asked me to marry him when I graduate. That's two years off. I told him he may decide later he wants to marry some other girl. He got all upset and said he won't change his mind. If he brings it up again, what can I say?—Too Soon in Arkansas.

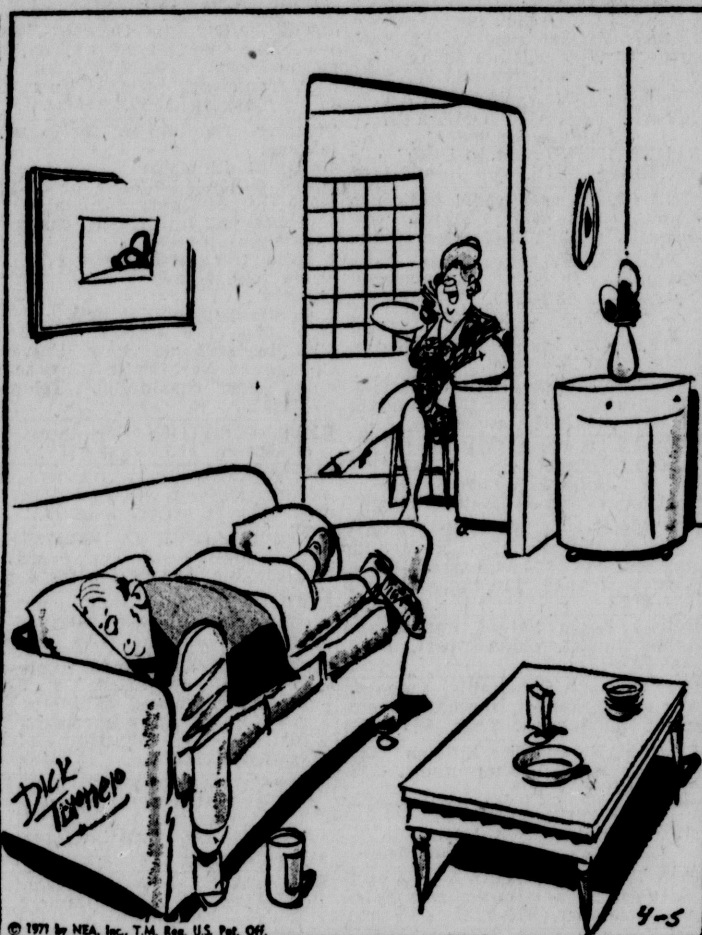

(A.) Tell him it's too early to make a decision like that. And stick to it. With a baby you have to be clear and firm. CALMLY: (Q.) I almost never get beaten or yelled at—just calmly told to stay in for a week or two.

I think if they would just start beating on me I'd stop doing what I'm not supposed to do. They think that staying in bothers me. Well, it does, but it doesn't make me stop doing what I do. Do you think I'm right for preferring to be beaten?—Did It Again in Kansas.

(A.) Your parents evidently know a good bit about human nature. They appear to be mature enough to know that human beings will not endlessly do things that don't pay. Whatever it is you're doing that is wrong doesn't pay. It costs you, in time, in fun, in companionship with your friends. It costs you, too, in that you don't even get a lot of physical action (beating and yelling) to add drama to your situation.

One day, your parents apparently think, you will see this fact and stop doing what you are doing. I believe you will, too. Your analysis, which is quite mature, shows you are giving it serious and sensible thought.

Strip Not Best for Screen

NEW YORK (AP) — Nancy Sinatra's Las Vegas night club act, taped as it was performed on a large stage and backed by an orchestra, took over Ed Sullivan's Sunday night hour on CBS.

For a theatre audience, it was obviously an exceptionally good production. Unfortunately, large stages with proscenium arch, footlights and the rest don't help television programs.

Efforts were made to do interesting things with the cameras but occasionally the lighting was off and sometimes the sound was blurred. Nancy, who sang a lot and very effectively, was surrounded by talent—The Blossoms, a singing trio that reminded one of the original Supremes; and the Osmond Brothers, who with their singing and dancing were more impressive than on their own recent special.

Had the production been made in a studio, it seemed that the special would have been as interesting as the first TV special Miss Sinatra made a couple of seasons back.

In the late afternoon there was a "Young People's Concert" with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra on CBS. Leonard Bernstein expounded interestingly on the music and philosophies of composer Richard Strauss but it was Strauss' Music, "Thus Spake Zarathustra," which was the best part.

Danny Kaye and Vincent Price were the voice-only stars of ABC's musical fantasy, "Here Comes Peter Cottontail." It was a charming cartoon fable pegged to Easter and especially for children. But it was fun for the adults to listen to Danny Kaye playing an English rabbit and a French caterpillar with his marvelously precise accents.

CBS's Friday night movie snappy bits of dialogue characteristic of "Dragnet."

Since "Gunsmoke" starts next season's production early and has a doctor's role written importantly into many of its scripts, there will be a new sawbones in Dodge City, for a while anyway.

His name will be Dr. John Chapman and he will be played by Pat Hingle. Milburn Stone—United States from Mexico, Doc Adams since the series Jack Webb directed the feature started—is convalescing from and loaded it with those short, major heart surgery.

Passover, Palm Sunday in Local Churches

The stories of Passover and of Palm Sunday were told in local houses of worship Sunday as two faiths go into high points on both religious calendars. At Congregation Agudas Achim (L) Rabbi Harry Z. Schectman explains the symbols of Passover to children of the Talmud Torah of Kingston. Taking part in the Model Seder are (L-R) Wendy Kestin, Barbara Salomon and Sharon Kestin. The Festival of Passover will be observed by the Jewish people beginning Friday, evening, April 9. Conservative and Orthodox Jews celebrate the first two days of the holiday, Saturday and Sunday, April 10 and 11 and the last days, Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17. Reform Jews celebrate Saturday, April 10 and Friday, April 16. At St. James United Methodist Church (R) the Rev. Harry D. Robinson Jr., pastor, tells children of the kindergarten Sunday school class of Palm Sunday events. Palm Sunday marks the start of Holy Week leading up to the joyous Easter observance in Christian churches. This year the two major religious holidays coincide as they did according to Biblical accounts. The Passover holiday is observed to commemorate the historic event which resulted in nationhood of the people of Israel about 3,200 years ago. Passover was being observed at the time of the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ according to the New Testament. (Freeman photos by Haines)

Bengali Forces Keep Pressure on Pakistanis

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Skirmishing is reported continuing around rebellious East Pakistan as growing resistance forces harass West Pakistani army patrols, and mounting supply problems beset the army.

Under strong pressure to provide material aid to the independence fighters, India's Prime Minister Indra Gandhi rejected demands to supply arms. But her ruling Congress party gave the freedom movement its complete moral backing.

Newsman returning from wide areas of the neighboring province said roads were badly cut and Pakistani army patrols were denied freedom to move at will. Determined resistance fighters, though poorly armed, harassed small units of the West Pakistani troops, and only the larger garrisons were free from attack. Using hit-and-run tactics to keep government forces at bay, the Bengali independence forces were reported maintaining pressure on West Pakistani troops while the rebels at the same time are training and organizing. Informants said many young Indian Bengalis from Calcutta, experienced in political terrorism, have crossed the border to instruct the East Bengalis in making homemade bombs. The bombs are filled with small metal particles, use potassium eral areas were described by some reporters. One target of air attacks was the farming town of Chuadanga, described as the Bangla Desh provisional capital. West Pakistani soldiers destroyed a police barracks in Kushtia, near Chuadanga, killing 500 persons, according to secessionist sources.

The United News of India said in a dispatch from the border town of Krishnagar that Pakistani jets violated Indian air space while bombing resistance forces just before dawn Sunday. There was no confirmation from the Indian air force.

Scattered engagements between independence fighters and government troops trying to reimpose West Pakistan control of the province were reported from many parts of the 55,000-square-mile region. However, four European missionaries who sailed to Calcutta over the weekend reported conditions were calm in Dinajpur district in the extreme north-west corner of the province.

Allende Coalition Leads in Chile

SANTIAGO (UPI)—Marxist President Salvador Allende's government coalition narrowly led opposition parties today in nationwide municipal elections that apparently gave him a personal and political victory in the first popularity test of his radical reform policies.

With complete returns from all but six of Chile's 25 provinces officially tabulated before dawn today, Allende's five government parties held 49.6 per cent of the vote to 48 per cent for the opposition. The remainder was accounted for by independent candidates and void ballots. At stake were 1,653 unsalaried alderman positions. The results of Sunday's balloting showed an impressive gain for the government parties, which had only 36.3 per cent of the vote in September when Allende won the presidency, and paved the way for him to accelerate his nationalization and agrarian reform programs. Allende, who had predicted the coalition would win 46 to 48 per cent, said he was happy but "not arrogant" about the result. Despite the showing by the government coalition, the opposition Christian Democrats had the largest vote total of any single party, receiving about one-fourth of the 2.8 million votes cast.

Carmen Frei, daughter of former Christian Democrat President Eduardo Frei, scored an impressive victory in her district in Santiago.

The election was the first in Chile in which 18-20 year-olds were eligible to vote and analysts speculated that a majority of them may have been won over by Allende's "Popular Unity" coalition. In addition to the municipal elections, the coalition parties scored an expected win in the three-way race for the Senate seat that Allende held before becoming president, electing Socialist Adonis Sepulveda to the post.

Election day was quiet throughout the nation except for a shooting incident in which 18-year-old Juan Millanlonco, a Christian Democrat, was killed by three bullets in the back in the southern city of Puerto Aysen. Allende said the incident would be investigated.

Kremlin Readies The Usual OK

MOSCOW (UPI)—Five thousand hands waving bright red Communist party cards signals the halfway mark for the 24th Soviet Party Congress. The Kremlin gathering can then turn from policy to economics.

The Congress reconvened in the Palace of Congresses today for the traditional ritual of approving the policies of the current leadership. The ceremony changes little from congress to congress—the supreme party rally held every four or five years.

The party leader, in this case Leonid I. Brezhnev, makes his brief summation speech, someone proposes full approval of the policies outlined by the chief, and the delegates leap to their feet for the card-waving "aye" vote.

The vote was expected either late today or Tuesday. The spotlight then shifts to Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and his report on the new consumer-oriented economic plan for 1971-75.

Moscow diplomats said they thought Brezhnev, the general secretary of the party since Nikita S. Khrushchev's ouster in 1964, had gained political stature at the congress.

He opened the congress last Tuesday with a nationally-televised state of the union speech that lasted six hours. Since then, speaker after speaker in the "debate" on his policy speech has lauded him as a great leader.

In addition, diplomatic sources said they expected the Soviet Foreign Office soon would start taking action—concrete proposals through diplomatic channels—designed to put teeth into Brezhnev's suggestions for general and nuclear disarmament.

Some analysts regarded his state of the union comments on these subjects as hollow propaganda, but the sources said Soviet diplomats would pump for them in spite of the odds against any sweeping disarmament conferences.

They said the Soviet would propose conferences on: —Worldwide disarmament of conventional forces. —Nuclear disarmament by the Soviet Union, the United States, Communist China, France and Britain. —General repudiation of the use of force.

—Dissolution of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and the Warsaw Pact armies.

—Joint measures on environment conservation and cooperation in space.

given Lt. William L. Calley Jr. for murdering 22 civilians at My Lai, aides said today. They reported the chief executive, who twice last week intervened in the Calley case, believed the review should proceed through normal channels at its deliberate pace. At the same time, the sources said, Nixon would have no objection if the Pentagon expedited the process through such mechanical acts as providing additional stenographers to prepare the full court-martial record. It must be completed before the case can reach the first level of review by legal officers at Ft. Benning, Ga., where Calley was tried. John D. Ehrlichman, a top

Security Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., today introduced a wide-ranging Internal Security Act and five other bills he said were needed urgently to bolster the nation's internal security laws.

The six-bill package has been designed to "restore efficacy and enforceability" to the 1950 Internal Security Act and plug loopholes suggested by various Supreme Court decisions. Eastland said.
